LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 15.—The "zero hour" approached today in the brutal kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Stoll.

The time limit in which the abductor promised to communicate with Berry V. Stoll, husband of the 26-year-old victim, expires at 4:20 p. m.

When Mrs. Stoll, ill, and running a high temperature, was gashed over the head and dragged from her home last Wednesday, the kidnaper left a ransom note which read in part:

"We will communicate with you within five days.

The fifth day dawned without any known message being received from the kidnaper or the kidnappers.

Authorities declined to go on record as to whether they believed the young society woman was dead or alive.

An optimistic note was sounded inferentially when Harold Nathan, department of justice agent in charge of the investigation, said: "When Mrs. Stoll is returned we (Continued On Page Two)

As a gardener Henry Lee, of 415 Wood street, takes his share of honors. Young Pa Newe came to this conclusion on Saturday afternoon after seeing a large potato plant which Mr. Lee brought into the office of the News. The plant was loaded with 24 large potatoes. Mr. Lee also showed the writer two potatoes weighing two pounds apiece.

The chilliness of the past few mornings brings to mind the thought of winter clothing, and the thought of the cold and bitter winter brings to mind the needy of the city who probably are not fitted out for the winter, and in turn this brings to mind the ingathering of the Needlework Guild November 8, when new garments will be brought in for distribution.

Wednesday of this week is the day set aside for ingathering of canned goods of all kinds for the Alms House. Mrs. Jimmie Foster, Lincoln avenue, is chairman of the donations committee of the Home Board, and she anticipates a nice ingathering of all kinds of fruits and vegetables, which have been set aside by the housewives during the summer's canning.

After being effectively blocked on two hills on Sunday afternoon in heavy traffic on the Butler highway, because of slow moving trucks on the highways, Pa Newe is heartily convinced that legislation banning immense trucks from the highways on Sunday would be a most desirable move. ### Find Body Of Missing Girl In Shallow Grave

(International News Service)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 15.—A new "American tragedy" murder mystery confronted police here today as a result of the discovery in a shallow sand-lot grave of the brutally bled body of 19 year old Anna Cardile of Pleasantville.

The girl, who was anticipating motherhood, according to physicians, disappeared from her home October 3. Her body, the head crushed by numerous blows of a heavy weapon, was found buried in a crudely-dug grave on a vacant lot in West Atlantic City. The gruesome discovery was made yesterday afternoon by two small boys at play in the lot.

For many hours after it had been removed from its shallow interment the body lay unidentified in the county morgue. Finally, late last night, a sister, Mrs. Mary Ellsworth, identified the victim.

After questioning the girl's relatives, Belleville Naylor, chief of police at Pleasantville, communicated with Forest Wadsworth, Staten Island, New York, requesting the arrest of George Scholls, a private in the U. S. infantry.

BELGRADE, Oct. 15.—As the body of slain King Alexander lay in state at Zagreb pending removal to Belgrade for a national funeral, grave international complications were foreseen today when authorities learned the true identity of his assassin.

While his forged passport was issued in the name of Petrus Kalemen, it was learned the man who shot down Alexander and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou of France at Marseilles actually was Vlada Georgieff, former aide to Ivan Mihailoff, chief of the notorious Macedonian Comitatjils.

Was Terrorist
Georgieff, it was learned, was expelled from Yugoslavia for his terrorist activities and stationed himself at the Emigre camp at Yankas Pustka, Hungary, in 1932.

The Hungarian government claims the camp was dissolved in April of this year, but charges the terrorist Citadell was financed and supported by Hungary continued to be aired in the Yugoslav press.

"The very fact the Hungarian government admits the terrorist camp still existed in April of this year is adequate proof of Hungary's guilt," a government spokesman said.

The Yugoslav government also claims to have proof that Yanka Pustka was not dissolved in April, merely being transferred to Gross-Kambs as a result of a typhoid epidemic.

Nothing has been learned of Georgieff's movements between 1932 and 1934. Whether he spent the entire time in the camp, where Emigres were reported to have been taught the use of pistols, rifles and bombs, could not be learned.

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PECS, Hungary, Oct. 15.—"Buy 950 coffins. We are prepared to die!" That grim message came literally from the grave today as nearly a thousand miners, bent on mass suicide because life on $2 a week was not worth living, grew weaker for want of air, water, and food in their self-imposed living tomb a thousand feet down a pitch-dark shaft.

While their women folk outside fought guards around the pit-head, barring them from joining and dying with the miners, there was no sign that the mine operators would capitulate and give the men the $1.50 a week wage increase they demand.

Entombed Four Days
The miners were dying in protest against the pit-head, at the same time called upon President Roosevelt to investigate his charges that the Democrats were wooing voters with large federal grants for relief and public works.

Five trade union officials, sent by Premier Julius Gombosi to negotiate with the miners, face death with them, for the strikers held the emissaries as hostages.

The minister of the interior was rushed to the mine in an attempt to free the five prisoners.

The miners are dying in protest against the pit-head system, which the owners say was forced by economic conditions. The men demanded enough work so that they could earn $3.50 a week. The Danube Steam Navigation Co., however, said that it even now has 15,000 carloads of ore on its hands that it cannot sell, so it would be a dead loss to mine any more coal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann took the witness stand at 12:22 p. m. today at the habeas corpus hearing in which he is fighting efforts to extradite him to New Jersey to stand trial for the murder of the Lindbergh baby.

Hauptmann followed his wife, Mrs. Anni Hauptmann, to the stand. She sought to provide an alibi for him to the effect that he invariably called for her on Tuesday nights when she was working at the Christian Frederickson bakery in the Bronx, New York City, during 1932.

The Lindbergh baby was kidnaped on a Tuesday night—on Tuesday, March 1, 1932—from his crib at the home of his parents, Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, at Hopewell, N. J.

Neatly attired in a gray suit and tan shirt and minus a tie, the pale, poker-faced Hauptmann walked quietly to the witness chair.

He put his hand on the Bible and swore that he would "tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the whole truth."

He stared straight ahead.

(International News Service)

PECS, Hungary, Oct. 15.—"Buy 950 coffins. We are prepared to die!" That grim message came literally from the grave today as nearly a thousand miners, bent on mass suicide because life on $2 a week was not worth living, grew weaker for want of air, water, and food in their self-imposed living tomb a thousand feet down a pitch-dark shaft.

While their women folk outside fought guards around the pit-head, barring them from joining and dying with the miners, there was no sign that the mine owners would capitulate and give the men the $1.50 a week wage increase they demand.

Entombed Four Days
Entombed for four days, the miners were believed today to have only a few hours more to live. They are understood to have fasted, carried with them food to turn off the ventilating machinery and shut off the water supply. Without fresh air, they could not last the day, it is believed.

Five trade union officials, sent by Premier Gullus Gombos to negotiate with the miners, were taken with them, for the strikers held the emissaries as hostages.

The minister of the interior was rushed to the mine in an attempt to free the five prisoners.

The miners are dying in protest against the part-time system which the owners say was forced by economic conditions. The men demanded enough work so that they could earn $3.50 a week. The Danube Steam Navigation Co., however, said that it even now has 15,000 carloads of coal on its hands that it cannot sell, so it would be a dead loss to mine any more coal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann took the witness stand at 12:22 p. m. today at the habeas corpus hearing in which he is fighting efforts to extradite him to New Jersey to stand trial for the murder of the Lindbergh baby.

Hauptmann followed his wife, Mrs. Anni Hauptmann, to the stand. She sought to provide an alibi for him to the effect that he invariably called for her on Tuesday nights when she was working at the Christian Frederickson bakery in the Bronx, New York City, during 1932.

The Lindbergh baby was kidnapped on a Tuesday night—on Tuesday, March 1, 1932—from his crib at the home of his parents, Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, at Hopewell, N. J.

Neatly attired in a gray suit and tan shirt and minus a tie, the pale, poker-faced Hauptmann walked quietly to the witness chair.

He put his hand on the Bible and swore that he would "tell the truth, the whole truth, so help me God." He stared straight ahead.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 15.—The "zero hour" approached today in the brutal kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Stoll.

The time limit in which the abductor promised to communicate with Berry V. Stoll, husband of the 26-year-old victim, expires at 4:20 p. m.

When Mrs. Stoll, ill, and running a high temperature, was gashed over the head and dragged from her home last Wednesday, the kidnaper left a ransom note which read in part:

"We will communicate with you within five days."
The fifth day dawned without any known message being received from the kidnaper or the kidnappers.

Find Body Of Missing Girl In Shallow Grave

(International News Service)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 15.—A new "American tragedy" murder mystery confronted police here today as a result of the discovery in a shallow sand-lot grave of the brutally bled body of 19-year-old Anna Cardile of Pleasantville.

The girl, who was anticipating motherhood, according to physicians, disappeared from her home October 3. Her body, the head crushed by numerous blows of a heavy weapon, was found buried in a crudely-dug grave on a vacant lot in West Atlantic City. The gruesome discovery was made yesterday afternoon by two small boys at play in the lot. For many hours after it had been removed from its shallow internment the body lay unidentified in the county morgue. Finally, late last night, a sister, Mrs. Mary Ellsworth, identified the victim.

True Identity Of King's Slayer Is Discovered

By D. R. GELEJI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BELGRADE, Oct. 15.—As the body of slain King Alexander lay in state at Zagreb pending removal to Belgrade for a national funeral, grave international complications were foreseen today when authorities learned the true identity of his assassin.

While his forged passport was issued in the name of Petrus Kalemien, it was learned the man who shot down Alexander and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou of France at Marseilles actually was Vlada Georgieff, former aid to Ivan Mihailoff, chief of the notorious Macedonian Komitadjis.

Was Terrorist
Georgieff, it was learned, was expelled from Yugoslavia for his terrorist activities and stationed himself at the Emigre camp at Yanka Pustka, Hungary, in 1932. The Hungarian government claims the camp was dissolved in April of this year, but charged the terrorist Citadel was financed and supported by Hungary continued to be aired in the Yugoslav press.

The very fact the Hungarian government admits the terrorist camp still existed in April of this year is adequate proof of Hungary's guilt, a government spokesman said.

The Yugoslav government also claims to have proof that Yanka Pustka was not dissolved in April, merely being transferred to Gross-Kamisa as a result of a typhoid epidemic.

Nothing has been learned of Georgieff's movements between 1932 and 1934. Whether he spent the entire time in the camp, where Emigres were reported to have been taught the use of pistols, rifles and bombs, could not be learned.

Pa New has discovered that the newly improved highway between New Wilmington and Volant is open to traffic. Several changes in the route were made when the highway was improved, notably one just outside of New Wilmington, and the other down the long hill into Volant.

In both of these changes the route of the highway cuts through the fields, and makes a much better course for the highway. Volant is now in a situation of having several improved highways to the boro line, and no improved highway in the town. The road through the town is in need of improvement, however.

Following the long rainy spell of September, and the latter part of August, another dry spell has set in. This dry spell, which the countryside reflects the situation.

Two potatoes raised by John Whiting, of New Bedford, are big enough to take care of five or six table plates and not leave much room for gravy. One weighs 2 pounds-11 ounces, while the other tips the scales at 2 pounds-12 ounces. Both are from one hill. They are on display at The News this week.

Five potatoes which were brought to the office of The News today, from the McCrory potato farm, on the Neshannock Falls road, tipped the scales at nine and one half pounds. One of them alone would almost make a meal for a small family.

On March 1, 1932

Fawcett slowly brought out in questioning the witness that Hauptmann had worked steadily as a carpenter during 1929, 1930 and 1931 but had only worked occasionally during 1932.

On the afternoon of March 1 when he left either the Majestic hotel building or the employment agency which he said he visited on Sixth avenue Hauptmann returned to his home, according to the witness. He left for home about 5 p. m.

Q.—What did you do the day after March 1?

A.—When I got home I changed my clothes and went to the garage.

Q.—Do you remember going to the Frederickson Bakery that evening?

A.—Yes.

Q.—What time?

A.—Between 6 or 7 p. m.

After Hauptmann had testified he went from his home to Frederickson's bakery to call for his wife, who was employed there, Fawcett asked:

"Did you have supper in the bakery on the night of March 1, 1932?"

"Yes."

"What did you do then?"

"I went home."

"Did your wife go with you?"

"Yes."

"Did you stay home all night?"

"Yes, I did."

At this juncture Justice Hammer announced an adjournment for lunch.

PINCHOT MAKES NEW CHARGES IN STATE CAMPAIGN

of Judge Ralph H. Smith, Pinchot leader in Allegheny county and manager thereof of the governor's primary campaign for the Republican senatorial nomination, that he will support the Democratic ticket.

The governor's latest blast at Earle followed a statement by his secretary, Duncan McCallum, in Ridgely last Friday night that Earle sought his support for the Democratic ticket and offered him a political reward in return.

Governor Pinchot assailed Earle for denying the statement of his wife, Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot, that during a visit at their home in Millford last Friday night, Earle had sought his support for the Democratic ticket.

"When a man sinks so low that he will deliberately and cold-bloodedly lie about what took place in a house in which he was a guest he has hit bottom," the governor said.

"It was, therefore, to be expected that Earle, who lied in telling what did not happen at Millford, should now lie in denying what did happen."

"Mrs. Pinchot's careful and accurate account of Earle's offer to buy our political support with an appointment to the United States senate is entirely convincing and needs no corroborating. It is, however, supported by Mr. McCallum's equally careful and accurate statement of Earle's offer and promise to him."

"As it happens, Mr. McCallum is not the man whose support Earle sought to buy up by the promise of a valuable consideration. The information came to me in a way which forbids me to mention names, but I do know Earle's efforts to buy up members of my cabinet were not confined to McCallum."

"But, if I cannot honorably give names, there is no such obligation on Earle. He knows the whole story. I challenge him to make it public."

The couples married were Charles J. Har and Clara Neisser of Cleveland, O. and Albert J. Yanno and Helen Mrakovich of Campbell, O.

delayed for miles on Sunday afternoon, because of the immense trucks in the line of traffic.

Pa Newc has discovered that the newly improved highway between New Wilmington and Volant is open to traffic. Several changes in the route were made when the highway was improved, notably one just outside of New Wilmington, and the other down the long hill into Volant. In both of these changes the route of the highway cuts through the fields, and makes a much better course for the highway. Volant is now in a situation of having several improved highways to the town, and no improved highway in the town. The road through the town is in need of improvement, however.

HAUPTMANN ON WITNESS STAND FOLLOWING WIFE

His sharp, drawn face wore a concentrated expression. He was clean-shaven. His hands lay folded in his lap. He seemed to be calm enough. Before he started testifying he wiped his lips with a handkerchief.

There was a brief conference of lawyers for both sides with Supreme Court Justice Ernest Homer.

Then came M. Fawcett, attorney for the defense, began to question the witness.

"Now, Richard," he began in a soft voice, "you are the defendant in this case?"

"I am," said Hauptmann in a clear voice, with a slight German accent. The former machine-gunner settled back in his seat.

Fawcett walked to within six feet of the witness chair.

Recalled March 1, 1932?

Q. (By Fawcett) Do you recollect the first day of March, 1932?

A. Yes.

Hauptmann nodded affirmatively at the same time.

Q. That was Tuesday?

A. Yes.

Q. Were you at home the Monday before?

A. I was.

Fawcett asked Hauptmann if he slept at home on Monday night, the night before the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby... and the witness said that he did.

Q.—What did you do the following morning?

A.—I took my wife to her work in the Bronx. It was about seven in the morning.

Voice Breaks

Hauptmann's voice began to break. There was a sobbing tone to his voice.

He said he and his wife left their home at about twelve minutes to seven o'clock that morning.

Defense Attorney Fawcett quickly severed the line of interrogation.

"You worked for the Reliance Property Management Company prior to March 1, 1932?"

"Yes."

"Did you work steadily for them?"

"That I cannot remember," the witness said.

Hauptmann's face was deathly white. He seemed to be puzzled and was having difficulty in understanding even simple questions. He talked in a frightened voice.

A court attendant was asked to hand him a pay check from the Reliance corporation for $36.67 and dated March 3, 1932.

Hauptmann's reply was deliberate. "Before he answered he thought

Voice Breaks

Hauptmann's voice began to break. There was a sobbing tone to his voice.

He said he and his wife left their home at about twelve minutes to seven o'clock that morning.

Defense Attorney Fawcett quickly severed the line of interrogation.

"You worked for the Reliance Property Management Company prior to March 1, 1932?"

"Yes."

"Did you work steadily for them?"

"That I cannot remember," the witness said.

Hauptmann's face was deathly white. He seemed to be puzzled and was having difficulty in understanding even simple questions. He talked in a frightened voice.

A court attendant was asked to hand him a pay check from the Reliance corporation for $36.67 and dated March 3, 1932.

Hauptmann's reply was deliberate. "Before he answered he thought

There was a brief conference of lawyers for both sides with Supreme Court Justice Ernest Homer.

Then came M. Fawcett, attorney for the defense, began to question the witness.

"Now, Richard," he began in a soft voice, "you are the defendant in this case?"

"I am," said Hauptmann in a clear voice, with a slight German accent. The former machine-gunner settled back in his seat.

Fawcett walked to within six feet of the witness chair.

Recalled March 1, 1932?

Q. (By Fawcett) Do you recollect the first day of March, 1932?

Hauptmann nodded affirmatively at the same time.

PINCHOT MAKES NEW CHARGES IN STATE CAMPAIGN

The governor's latest bid, Earle follows a statement by his Secretary, Duncan McCollum, in Ridgway, last Friday night that Earle sought his support for the Democratic ticket and offered him a political reward in return.

Governor Pinchot assailed Earle for denying the statement of his wife, Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot, that she was at their home in Milford the Democratic gubernatorial candidate offered her a senatorial appointment for the executive in return for Pinchot support of the Democratic campaign.

"When a man sinks so low that he will deliberately and cold-bloodedly lie about what took place in a house in which he was a guest he has hit bottom," the governor said.

"It was, therefore, to be expected that Earle, who lied in telling what did not happen at Milford, should now lie in denying what did happen."

Mrs. Pinchot's careful and accurate account of Earle's offer to buy up political support with an appointment to the United States senate is entirely convincing and needs no corroborating. It is, however, supported by Mr. McCollum's equally careful and accurate statement of Earle's offer and promise to him.

"As it happens, Mr. McCollum is not the only one in my cabinet whose support Earle sought to buy up by the promise of a valuable consideration. The information came to me in a way which forbids me to mention names, but I do know Earle's efforts to buy up members of my cabinet was not confined to McCollum."

"But, if I cannot honorably give names, there is no such obligation on Earle. He knows the whole story. I challenge him to make it public."

Slain King's Body Will Lie In State

BOY IS BEING WELL GUARDED

(International News Service)

(BULLETIN)
BELGRADE, Oct. 15.—Thousands of peasants, many of whom had traveled far and waited all night long, filed slowly past the catafalque of King Alexander at Zogreb today.

Many more thousands will line the railway to salute his train when it carries the slain king on to his capital at noon.

Huge Crowd Foreseen
Preparations on a huge scale were made at Belgrade to handle the immense mobs who were already gathering at the station and crowding the streets through which Alexander's body will be carried. Police precautions to guard young King Peter and other members of the royal household were strict and thorough.

Peter will see the remains of his father for the first time at the royal palace, where the body will lie in state and people will be given an opportunity to pay final homage to Alexander.

Although the gates were kept ajar figuratively speaking, on the Stoll estate in the hope that the victim might be returned, there was a noticeable increase in activity by police authorities.

A number of persons were questioned, federal agent Nathan admitted.

Searching parties continued to comb the area.

A police squad car was on duty for the first time within calling distance of the Stoll household.

Among those questioned were Jas. E. Scales, milk-wagon driver, who told of colliding with a sedan early on Sunday morning. Scales said the driver drew a revolver and threatened him. He said he believed Mrs. Stoll was in the rear seat of the sedan.

Federal agent Nathan said that the incident was of no importance. "I believe Scales was honestly mistaken," he said.

Kansas City, Mo.—A newer rapture method developed by a doctor is so successful he offers to give every raptured man or woman who tries it, a $3.50 truss free. It does away with leg straps, elastic belts, binding springs and harsh pads. After using it, many have reported their raptures better. Often in a very short time. Others say they no longer need any support. The doctor offers to send his method on 20 days' trial and will send the $3.50 truss free with it. If the method does not help your rapture return it and keep the $3.50 truss for your trouble. If you are raptured just write Dr. Kaiser, 4972 Koch Bldg., 2906 Main St., Kansas City, Mo., for his trial offer.

delayed for miles on Sunday afternoon, because of the immense trucks in the line of traffic.

Pa News has discovered that the newly improved highway between New Wilmington and Volant is open to traffic. Several changes in the route were made when the highway was improved, notably one just outside of New Wilmington, and the other down the long hill into Volant.

In both of these changes the route of the highway cuts through the fields, and makes a much better course for the highway. Volant is now in a situation of having several improved highways to the boro line, and no improved highway in the town. The road through the town is in need of improvement, however.

Following the long rainy spell of September, and the latter part of August, another dry spell has apparently struck this district, and the countryside reflects the situation.

Two potatoes raised by John Whiting, of New Bedford, are big enough to take care of five or six table plates and not leave much room for gravy. One weighs 2 pounds-11 ounces, while the other tips the scales at 2 pounds-12 ounces. Both are from one hill. They are on display at The News this week.

Five potatoes which were brought to the office of The News today, from the McCreary potato farm, on the Neshannock Falls road, tipped the scales at nine and one-half pounds. One of them alone would almost make a meal for a small family.

She lifted her right hand and waved to her husband. But apparently he did not see her.

His sharp, drawn face wore a concentrated expression. He was clean-shaven. His hands lay folded in his lap. He seemed to be calm enough. Before he started testifying he wiped his lips with a handkerchief.

There was a brief conference of lawyers for both sides with Supreme Court Justice Ernest Hammer.

Then came M. Fawcett, attorney for the defense, began to question the witness.

"Now, Richard," he began in a soft voice, "you are the defendant in this case?"

"I am," said Hauptmann, in a clear voice, with a slight German accent in the former machine-gunner settled back in his seat.

Fawcett walked to within six feet of the witness chair.

Recollect March 1, 1932?

Q. (by Fawcett) Do you recollect the first day of March, 1932?

A. Yes.

Hauptmann nodded affirmatively at the same time.

Q. That was Tuesday?

A. Yes.

Q. Were you at home the Monday before?

A. I was.

Fawcett asked Hauptmann if he slept at home on Monday night, the night before the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby.

Q.—What did you do the following morning?

A.—I took my wife to her work in the Bronx. It was about seven in the morning.

Voice Breaks

Hauptmann's voice began to break. There was a sobbing tone to his voice.

He said he and his wife left their home at about twelve minutes to seven o'clock that morning.

Defense Attorney Fawcett quickly shifted the line of interrogation.

"You worked for the Reliance Property Management Company prior to March 1, 1932?"

"Yes."

"Did you work steadily for them?"

"That I cannot remember," the witness said.

Hauptmann's face was deathly white. He seemed to be puzzled and was having difficulty in understanding even simple questions. He talked in a frightened voice.

A court attendant was asked to hand him a pay check from the Reliance corporation for $36.67 and dated March 31, 1932.

Hauptmann's reply was deliberate.

...Before he answered he thought

For some time... He scrutinized the check turning it over and over. He pursed his lips.

He was handed another check from the same company for $6.67, and dated April 15, 1932.

Did Not Know Foreman.

Q.—Do you remember for what period the checks were given to you?

A.—No.

Hauptmann was asked if he knew Alfred M. Gizzell. He said he did not.

Gizzell was his foreman when he worked for the Reliance corporation which was doing work for the Majestic apartment hotel on the west side of New York City.

Hauptmann had been employed as a carpenter. The witness, however, identified the two checks as having been paid to him.

Attorney Fawcett showed Hauptmann a check signed by Christian Frederickson, the Bronx baker. It was dated June 6, 1932, and made out to Mrs. Anni Hauptmann, the prisoner's wife, who was employed at the bakery. It was for $80. Hauptmann testified the check was for work done by his wife at the bakery.

Q.—You left your home with your wife on the morning of March 1, 1932?

A.—Yes.

Under further questioning Hauptmann said he did not always take his wife to work but he did "some times."

Q.—Did you take her home from work on Tuesday and Friday nights when she worked late?

A.—Yes.

A murder charge was formally lodged against Stone prior to the signing of the confession. According to police this was based primarily on the finding of blood-stains on the clothing of the suspect, who was formerly a doorman at the apartment house, and the fact that he had been seen talking to the child a few minutes before she disappeared.

Inspector Silverstein told reporters he believed the girl, who was paying a week-end visit to her aunt, who lives in the apartment house, was brutally assaulted in the cellar of the building, beaten over the head and then thrown, probably alive, into the roaring oil furnace.

James Nash and George Hutchinson, employees of the apartment building, found the child's remains in the furnace following the discovery of blood stains on the floor of the basement.

In doing the serious and important work of selecting a funeral director, there are very few people with good judgment that would select one just because they had seen his name on a church bulletin or bill board, or just because he had lent them a few chairs for some previous use in their home.

The good well thinking people will select the man who can give the service and the right price regardless of where they see his name or his advertisement.

Home From Chicago
Miss Virginia Davis, of Neshannock avenue and Miss Florence Williams of Clemons Boulevard have returned from a few days' visit with the former's sister, Mrs. Stanley Richards of Chicago, where they also attended the World's Fair.

WARDROP-SHARP WEDDING TODAY

Notably significant was the wedding day, today, of Ada B. Wardrop of Sewickley and Hugh Rodney Sharp, Jr., of Wilmington, Del., as the bride chose for her wedding the same date, October 15, as her late mother, and father did for theirs.

The wedding of W. Miller Wardrop and Mrs. Wardrop, the former Helen Dorman, was a brilliant affair, taking place in the First Presbyterian church in New Castle in 1907.

Although only members of the two families and a few close friends were invited to today's wedding, because of recent mourning in the Wardrop family, the ceremony took place this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Shields Presbyterian church, Sewickley, the family connection being so large that it could not be held in the home.

Rev. A. A. Hayes of the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Chicago, officiated, assisted by the Rev. H. B. Brown, pastor of the Shields church, of which the bride's grandfather was a charter member, and her grandfather was an elder.

Also assisting was the Rev. Owen Davies Odell, pastor of the Sewickley Presbyterian church.

It is of further interest to note more family traditions about the wedding. Ada B. wore the wedding gown both her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Edmund Dorman of Washington county, wore when they became brides.

All the members of the bridal party were relatives, mostly of the bridegroom. Mrs. George Tyler Wymouth, matron of honor, is his cousin and Mrs. William J. Kitchell and Mrs. Robert Hamilton Kestell, bridesmaids, all of Wilmington, Del. are a cousin and a sister of the bridegroom.

Bayard Sharp was his brother's best man, and Robert Farnon Kennett, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Lamont du Pont III, cousin of the bridegroom and Edmund Dorman Wardrop and Robert Wardrop II, brother of the bride, were ushers. The usual reception, after the wedding was omitted.

For their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Sharp will go to England. They plan to spend some time in London and when they return to the States they will be at home in Greens Farms, Conn.

Among the guests present were several from New Castle, including Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Lindley, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. John Byers, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Norris, Mrs. A. W. Urmsion, Carl Hanna and Thomas H. Hartman.

CASTLEWOOD COUPLE HAVE ANNIVERSARY

Besides the honored couple, the guests were: Howard Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reed and daughters, Helen, Marie and Ruth Anne; Mr. and Mrs. John Reed and John, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. James McClain and daughter June.

PATTISON-GENKINGER WEDDING SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pattison of Scotland Lane, announce the marriage of their daughter, Sara, to William Genkinger, Wick avenue, the ceremony being an event of Saturday evening, October 13.

The nuptials were read at 7:30 o'clock, at St. John's Lutheran church with the Rev. Stough, pastor officiating, in the presence of relatives and friends.

The couple chose as their attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCaskey, Jr., of this city. The bride was attired in a Spanish tile crepe, with brown accessories and she wore a shoulder corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. McCaskey appeared in a brown crepe ensemble, and her shoulder bouquet was of fallman roses.

Immediately following the marriage, a wedding dinner was served the bride party at a local inn.

The couple departed for a wedding trip, their destination not revealed and after October 15 will be at home to their friends on Wick avenue.

Home From Chicago
Miss Virginia Davis, of Neshannock avenue and Miss Florence Williams of Glenmore Boulevard have returned from a few days' visit with the former's sister, Mrs. Stanley Richards of Chicago, where they also attended the World's Fair.

WARDROP-SHARP WEDDING TODAY

Notably significant was the wedding day, today, of Ada B. Wardrop of Sewickley and Hugh Rodney Sharp, Jr., of Wilmington, Del., as the bride chose for her wedding the same date, October 15, as her late mother, and father did for theirs.

The wedding of W. Miller Wardrop and Mrs. Wardrop, the former Helen Donnan, was a brilliant affair, taking place in the First Presbyterian church in New Castle in 1907.

Although only members of the two families and a few close friends were invited to today's wedding, because of recent mourning in the Wardrop family, the ceremony took place this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Shields Presbyterian church, Sewickley, the family connection being so large that it could not be held in the home.

Rev. A. A. Hayes of the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Chicago, officiated, assisted by the Rev. H. R. Brown, pastor of the Shields church, of which the bride's great-grandfather was a charter member, and her grandfather was an elder. Also assisting was the Rev. Owen Davies Odell, pastor of the Sewickley Presbyterian church.

It is of further interest to note more family traditions about the wedding. Ada B. wore the wedding gown both her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Edmund Donnan of Washington county, wore when they became brides.

All the members of the bridal party were relatives, mostly of the bridegroom. Mrs. George Tyler Wymouth, matron of honor, is his cousin and Mrs. William J. Kitchell and Mrs. Robert Harmon Kennett, bridesmaids, all of Wilmington, Del., are a cousin and a sister of the bridegroom.

Bayard Sharp was his brother's best man, and Robert Harmon Kennett, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Lamont du Pont III, cousin of the bridegroom and Edmund Donnan Wardrop and Robert Wardrop II, 60 years ago, when Mr. Cameron took for his bride Jennie Elizabeth Harsh, relates back to Dickson, Tenn., where he was an instructor in the community school, and she one of his students. Here the romance began. The couple lived in that vicinity for approximately six or seven years, and then moved in this direction. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron have resided on the Harlansburg road for the past 33 years, and during that time have acquired a wealth of friends in this and surrounding vicinities. Both are enjoying good health, and have been active in the duties and social life of the Croton M. E. church of which they are faithful members.

They are the parents of 11 children, all of whom will be in attendance at the reception with their families. They are Mrs. C. C. Cunningham, of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Chester E. Hunt, of Portersville; Mrs. Lillian Pizer, of Grove City; A. Harnish Cameron, of New Castle, E. D.; Mrs. J. Scott Munnell, of Mt. Hermon; D. L. Cameron, of Palski; J. O. Cameron, at home; Mrs. Lynn L. Sterrett, of Akron, O.; James W. Cameron, of Sewickley; Claribel Cameron, of North Braddock, and F. W. Cameron, of Alexandria, Pa. Also, they have 28 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pattison of Scotland Lane, announce the marriage of their daughter, Sara, to William Genkinger, Wick avenue, the ceremony being an event of Saturday evening, October 13.

The nuptials were read at 7:30 o'clock, at St. John's Lutheran church with the Rev. Stough, pastor officiating, in the presence of relatives and friends.

The couple chose as their attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCaskey, Jr., of this city.

The bride was attired in a Spanish tile crepe, with brown accessories and she wore a shoulder corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. McCaskey appeared in a brown crepe ensemble, and her shoulder bouquet was of Talisman roses.

Immediately following the marriage, a wedding dinner was served the bridal party at a local inn.

Home From Chicago

Miss Virginia Davis, of Neshannock avenue and Miss Florence Williams of Clemmore Boulevard have returned from a few days' visit with the former's sister, Mrs. Stanley Richards of Chicago, where they also attended the World's Fair.

WARDROP-SHARP WEDDING TODAY

Notably significant was the wedding day, today, of Ada B. Wardrop of Sewickley and Hugh Rodney Sharp, Jr., of Wilmington, Del., as the bride chose for her wedding the same date, October 15, as her late mother, and father did for theirs.

The wedding of W. Miller Wardrop and Mrs. Wardrop, the former Helen Donnan, was a brilliant affair, taking place in the First Presbyterian church in New Castle in 1907.

Although only members of the two families and a few close friends were invited to today's wedding, because of recent mourning in the Wardrop family, the ceremony took place this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Shields Presbyterian church, Sewickley, the family connection being so large that it could not be held in the home.

Rev. A. A. Hayes of the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Chicago, officiated, assisted by the Rev. H. R. Brown, pastor of the Shields church, of which the bride's great-grandfather was a charter member, and her grandfather was an elder.

Also assisting was the Rev. Owen Davies Odell, pastor of the Sewickley Presbyterian church.

It is of further interest to note more family traditions about the wedding. Ada B. wore the wedding gown both her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Edmund Donnan of Washington county, wore when they became brides.

All the members of the bridal party were relatives, mostly of the bridegroom. Mrs. George Tyler Wymouth, matron of honor, is his cousin and Mrs. William J. Kitchell and Mrs. Robert Harmon Kennett, bridesmaids, all of Wilmington, Del., are a cousin and a sister of the bridegroom.

Bayard Sharp was his brother's best man, and Robert Farmon Kennett, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Lamont du Pont III, cousin of the bridegroom and Edmund Donnan Wardrop and Robert Wardrop II, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The usual reception, after the wedding was omitted.

For their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Sharp will go to England. They plan to spend some time in London and when they return to the States they'll be at home in Greens Farms, Conn.

Among the guests present were several from New Castle, including Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Lindley, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. John Byers, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Norris, Mrs. A. W. Urmson, Carl Hanna and Thomas H. Hartman.

CASTLEWOOD COUPLE HAVE ANNIVERSARY

Honoring the thirty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Reed of Castletown, the children and grandchildren gathered at their home on Sunday for a family dinner.

Seated at a table, centered with a large wedding cake, they enjoyed an elegant meal prepared by Mrs. Reed and her daughter, Mrs. Ethel McClain. Afternoon hours were spent in taking pictures, radio music, and conversation. Many interesting stories of their wedding day were told by Mr. and Mrs. Reed.

Besides the honored couple, the guests were: Howard Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reed and daughters, Helen, Marie and Ruth Anne; Mr. and Mrs. John Reed and John, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. James McClain and daughter June.

Many lovely gifts were received by the honored couple, together with scores of good wishes.

Mrs. And Mrs. A. F. Cameron Are Wedded Sixty Years

MRS. A. F. CAMERON

A. F. CAMERON

Saturday, October 20, marks the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Cameron, and in celebration of this memorable occasion the couple will receive friends, relatives and neighbors informally at a reception at "Yea Olde Homestead" on the Harlansburg road on this date.

During the afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock and in the evening from 7 until 10, open house will be held, permitting the many acquaintances of the honored couple, from far and near, to call and extend congratulations.

The wedding ceremony performed 60 years ago, when Mr. Cameron took for his bride Jennie Elizabeth Harnish, relates back to Dickson, Tenn., where he was an instructor in the community school, and she one of his students. Here the romance began. The couple lived in that vicinity for approximately six or seven years, and then moved in this direction.

Both are enjoying good health, and have been active in the duties and social life of the Croton M. E. church of which they are faithful members.

They are the parents of 11 children, all of whom will be in attendance at the reception with their families. They are Mrs. C. C. Cunningham, of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Chester E. Hunt, of Portersville; Mrs. Lillian Pizer, of Grove City; A. Harnish Cameron, of New Castle R. D. 4; Mrs. J. Scott Munnell, of Mt. Hermon; D. I. Cameron, of Pukaski; J. O. ## PITY POOR PETER

LITTLE Peter Karageorge, who became King of Yugoslavia upon the assassination of his father, was called upon over night to give up the simple wholesome life of an English school boy and assume the responsibilities and burdensome routine of a European monarch.

Peter's life, because he is of royal blood, was not destined to contain the ordinary type of happiness in store for the average youth of today. Since his birth he has been subjected to the mandates of age-old traditions and royal customs. His every act has been well considered, carefully planned and done in a specified manner. He has been trained in the discipline of a soldier and a leader.

Had Peter's father not been assassinated at Marseille the other day, the youth would have continued to develop in the wholesome atmosphere of English life and to have obtained, at least, the normal happiness he enjoyed there. But now his boyhood has been nipped at an early stage. He is no longer care-free and boyish. He has become a man—a king.

Too frequently we would envy the riches and power of a monarch. Beyond the surface of royal life we find considerable unhappiness, considerable self-denial and personal sacrifice for the benefit of a nation and its people. Little Peter is no longer an individual, seeking the normal pleasures of life. He is the figure-head of government. He must conduct himself in the interests of his people and submerge his own pleasures for the well-being of Yugoslavia.

We cannot envy any monarch—prisoners that they are within their own castles. But we pity the unfortunate youth who must now forego his school life and become King of Yugoslavia.

Yugoslavia is a turbulent land set down in a troublesome and incalculable situation. Of eight kings since Serbia won her independence from Turkey in 1804, three were assassinated, one was driven from his throne by revolt, another was forced to abdicate and only three died natural deaths upon their thrones.

The 11-year-old boy, who now becomes king of this land, is one of the most pathetic figures in modern history.

STUDENT STRIKES

Bridgeport, Conn. school authorities believe they and not the students should control school affairs.

They made this plain in connection with a strike of high school students for shorter hours. After remaining away from classes for two days, the 187 strikers sought to return. The board of education promptly barred them in accordance with a decision reached at a special meeting. The strikers were informed that before they would be permitted to return their parents would have to consult the high school principal.

Strikes by students do not constitute the proper way of settling questions of school administration. School strikes are becoming more frequent in America. They should be discouraged, and the Bridgeport way offers an effective method.

TOM, DICK AND HARRIET

In a pertinent and striking paraphrase of a familiar saying a Washington correspondent the other day, wrote:

"Later they got it (stock) listed on the stock exchange, and sales were made to any Tom, Dick or Harriet."

The correspondent has dropped Harry from the Tom, Dick and Harriet so familiarly the symbol of the non-exclusive and substituted Harriet, thus giving women representation, as befits their greatly enlarged place in all human activities, even on the speculative market. There ought to be other adaptations of the same kind and for the same reason. We suggest that John Doe and Richard Roe be superseded by John Doe and Rachel Roe. In justice to women's place in public affairs Uncle Sam should be coupled or alternated with Aunt Mary.

The victor at least should share the spoils. Of course, if spoils and honors are to be shared under the new feminine freedom, so must the responsibilities. The goddess of liberty was created feminine when women had little to do with the liberties or the oppressions of the human race. Now the figure becomes more consistent, but one of these days, man, maddened by inglorious relegation, will insist that the torch is too heavy for feminine hands alone.

AMERICA'S HEROES

Once in a blue moon the grand old game of baseball tosses to the top a character so typically American that the public takes him to its heart and makes a national hero of him.

This happened years ago with Ty Cobb; it happened a little later with Babe Ruth; it seems to have happened again this fall with Dizzy Dean.

All these men exemplify to perfection the kind of spirit that makes baseball such a definitely and everlasting American form of sport. Cobb represented the flaming, unendingly competitive young athlete who was out to win at all costs. There was an aura of rowdiness about him, which was as it should be—fore baseball. Fundamentally, has a streak of rowdiness itself.

Ruth was the big, burly, bruiser type; the physical giant whose natural gifts are coupled with an intense, juvenile joy in life.

And Dean, in turn, is the braggart who is forever making good his boasts. Every small town, every big city neighborhood, has seen these men in miniature, over and over again. And that is why they became national figures.

Plenty of people waste a lot of time wishing it were tomorrow.

The person who gives but little advice and applauds frequently is usually popular.

It isn't poverty that develops strong character; it is the determination to get out of it.

One thing you can say for this country is that everybody has a chance to become poor and honest.

American women are becoming larger, we are informed. Well, quite a few of them seem to have outgrown their bathing suits.

SPEAKING OF GREENBERG
The Irish didn't like it when they heard of Greenberg fame. For they thought a good first baseman should possess an Irish name.

And the Murphys and Mulrooneys said they never dreamed they'd see a Jew.

A Jewish boy from Bronxville out where Casey used to be. In the early days of April not a Dugan tipped his hat.

Or prayed to see a "double" when Hank Greenberg came to bat.

In July the Irish wondered where he'd ever learned to play. "He makes me think of Casey!" Old Man Murphy dared to say. And with fifty seven doubles and a score of homers made.

The respect they had for Greenberg was being openly displayed. But upon the Jewish New Year when Hank Greenberg came to bat.

And made two home runs off Pitcher Rhodes—they cheered like mad for that.

Came Yom Kippur—holy feast day which covers the Jew's sins. And Hank Greenberg to his teaching and the old tradition true spent the day among his people and he didn't come to play. Said Murphy to Mulrooney, "We shall lose the game today!" We shall miss him on the infield and shall miss him at the bat, but he's true to his religion and I honor him for that!

DON'T MAKE A BUSINESS OF YOUR PLEASURE

You have devoted years to your line of work and are not perfect. Yet you expect to be perfect in your line of sport for leisure hours. Isn't it foolish to be angered and disappointed when you fail to excel in recreational activities?

Why make a job out of a pastime? Why allow angry emotions to sway you when you lose in a game? If you do a certain thing for pleasure, why not approach it in the proper spirit so that you may get enjoyment out of it, notwithstanding your mistakes.

The disposition you show in your play is a pretty fair barometer by which your companion can judge your character.

In ordinary conditions you keep yourself in control, but this is very often not true when you engage in a favorite sport.

The benefit of recreation is lost when temper is displayed. The more quiet and collected you are the better you will take hold of essentials to work or in play.

Your mind cannot be in two places at once, whether it be work or play. Be sure that you make play out of your recreation.

The original name of the alcoholic monstrosity concocted by distilling grain and flavoring it with juniper berries, fennel, coriander seed, salt, turpentine and other condiments is really "geneva"—not "gin" as it is usually called. "Gin" is a corruption of "geneva," from the French word "genièvre," which refers to the juniper berries used for the flavoring element. It has nothing to do with the city of Geneva, in Switzerland, where the costly League of Nations has conducted its grand fiasco. Gin is often called "cholland" because Holland has long been a leading producer. The liquor produced at Schiedam, in that country, is especially well known—usually under the name of "Schiedam schnapps."

President Tries to Placate Inflationists
Commodity Price Level Is Obstacle

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—President Roosevelt evidently is trying to offset inflationist demands from congress next January. The word is that he will reduce the gold content of the dollar still further in order to "raise prices"—chiefly agricultural prices.

Two things, however, will be against the president:

1. Price reaction.

2. The makeup of congress.

First, commodity prices do not remain up under mere "shots in the arm" via the inflation "tonic". It is the next summer brings an even less than normal grain crop, world prices will decline. The American wheat price even now is pegged above the world price—not a healthful procedure.

Commodity prices unfortunately drop prior to the cost of manufactured articles during inflation reactions. Thus, the agriculturist, to save himself, will demand more and more "tonic."

Secondly, the incoming congress will not be satisfied with "mere" dollar devaluation. It will not take that into consideration, nor the inflationary pressures during inflation. The incoming congress will consider itself to have a mandate to go "beyond Roosevelt".

Prior to the end of 1935, conservatives may be fleeing to Roosevelt for "protection" from the "wild-eyed radicals".

BANK PAYOFF
Nor should it be believed that a federal payoff for depositors in closed banks has been forgotten. That group of citizenry believes the Roosevelt administration "betrayed" it at the last session of congress.

It considers the Rooseveltian arguments against a payoff as specious.

The president was reputed to have said last spring that persons who invested in a business would not expect the government to make good their losses.

The depositors contend that a bank is not a business, but a quasi-public institution supervised either by federal or state government.

The largest banks to fail—in Detroit, Cleveland, Akron—all were federal reserve banks. What is the public to understand "federal reserve" to mean? That is the question ruined depositors ask.

Now a depositor—a business man, we shall say—not only has lost his working capital, but is unable to obtain credit, to boot, for his business. In Cleveland, worst hit of all the bank failure cities, deposits have RISEN $68,000,000 so far this year, but loans have DECREASED $33,000,000.

In brief, deflation still continues where reflation is needed the most. The bank payoff group may suggest that the government nationalize the banks and credit—and at least supply credit to the depositor whose money remains frozen.

The RFC has not relaxed its rules in lending money for payoffs. It demands good security—but securities in cities where deposits and credit are frozen cannot possibly rise in value.

The administration will hear much concerning this from congress.

MONDAY, OCT 15

The World War Day-By-Day—
Oct. 15, 1914.—It was the anniversary of the incarceration of Napoleon Bonaparte at St. Helena, a century before.

Europe thought its troubles were over when his cancerous hulk was buried alive upon the bleak southern isle. His ashes were mouldering now in a Paris shrine, but his soul was marching on. Because of rampant spirits he loomed upon Europe, the continent was being bathed in blood again.

He had held off Britain, Russia, Austria and lesser countries until his home front crumbled. Now Germany, with more hindrance than help from Austria-Hungary, was holding off Britain, Belgium, France, Russia, Serbia, Montenegro and Japan.

She was outnumbered two to one, and the odds were increasing.

To offset these odds, she had the advantage of long and complete military preparation, high morale and strong economic organization. The latter had become the most important.

For it was apparent to both sides now that the war could not be won upon the battlefield until the home front had been crumbled. It had become a test of economic endurance. The decision depended upon which side would be able to feed and keep its peoples in order for the longest time.

The Kaiser, like Napoleon, will be beaten by the wolf at the door, not by cannon across the street.

On this date, Germans occupied Ostend and were in position to launch the air attacks on England which they hoped would crush the spirit of resistance in its people.

From Wilhelmstrasse to Washington a sharp note was dispatched. It stated that the German government had learned from "an official notice" in a London newspaper that the Department of State had ruled that ships of belligerent nations when equipped with ammunition and armament "shall nevertheless be treated, while in American ports, as merchant ships, provided the armament serves for defensive purposes only."

"This ruling," the German foreign minister declared, "wholly fails to comply with the principles of neutrality. The equipment of British merchant vessels with artillery is for the purpose of making armed resistance against German cruisers. Resistance of this sort is contrary to international law. It is a question whether ships thus armed should be admitted into ports of a neutral country at all. Such ships, in any event, should be subject at least to the rules issued by neutral nations restricting the stay of a warship."

The U. S. stuck to its guns, and armed British and French merchantmen continued to be received.

There were no armed German merchantmen because Allied warships had swept German shipping from the seas. More than 200 Central Power ships had taken refuge in U. S. ports and been interned.

Few German cruisers were still at large for Allied merchant ships to resist. Germany really was concerned because of what armed merchantmen could do to her submarines.

History Up-to-Date—Oct. 15, 1582—When morning came, the longest night in history had passed. Through Catholic countries, persons went to bed on Oct. 5 and rose on Oct. 15.

By decree of Pope Gregory XIII, ten days were suppressed to correct errors in the Julian method of intercalation and adjust the periods between January first and the Solstices in the new calendar.

It came to be known as the Gregorian calendar, but Gregory did not invent it. It was the rest of the calculation of one Alstus Lilius, an astronomer and physician of Naples.

Russia was the last country to adopt it. During all the years it was a theocratic state, it used a pagan calendar. When it became godless, it adopted the calendar of the church!

Oct. 15, 1764.—One of the greatest of books was conceived. Edward Gibbon himself tells us how he came to write The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire.

"It was in Rome on the 15th of October, 1764, as I sat musing amid the ruins of the Capitol, while barefooted friars were singing vespers in the temple of Jupiter, that the idea of writing the decline and fall of the city first started to my mind."

But my original plan was circumscribed to the decay of the city, rather than of the empire; and though my reading and reflections began to point to that object, some years elapsed and several avocations intervened before I was seriously

"Carrisa creek itself is one of southern California's blind streams—beginning and ending nowhere in particular," he wrote. Issuing from a sand heap, it terminates in another a few miles away; just here at the station it is a shallow creek—a few yards wide by six inches deep—tainted of course with alkali.

PITY POOR PETER

LITTLE Peter Karageorge, who became King of Yugoslavia upon the assassination of his father, was called upon over night to give up the simple wholesome life of an English school boy and assume the responsibilities and burdensome routine of a European monarch.

Peter's life, because he is of royal blood, was not destined to contain the ordinary type of happiness in store for the average youth of today. Since his birth he has been subjected to the mandates of age-old traditions and royal customs. His every act has been well considered, carefully planned and done in a specified manner. He has been trained in the discipline of a soldier and a leader.

Had Peter's father not been assassinated at Marseille the other day, the youth would have continued to develop in the wholesome atmosphere of English life and to have obtained, at least, the normal happiness he enjoyed there. But now his boyhood has been nipped at an early stage. He is no longer care-free and boyish. He has become a man—a king.

Too frequently we would envy the riches and power of a monarch. Beyond the surface of royal life we find considerable unhappiness, considerable self-denial and personal sacrifice for the benefit of a nation and its people. Little Peter is no longer an individual, seeking the normal pleasures of life. He is the figure-head of government. He must conduct himself in the interests of his people and submerge his own pleasures for the well-being of Yugoslavia.

We cannot envy any monarch—prisoners that they are within their own castles. But we pity the unfortunate youth who must now forego his school life and become King of Yugoslavia.

Yugoslavia is a turbulent land set down in a troublous and incalculable situation. Of eight kings since Serbia won her independence from Turkey in 1804, three were assassinated, one was driven from his throne by revolt, another was forced to abdicate and only three died natural deaths upon their thrones.

The 11-year-old boy, who now becomes king of this land, is one of the most pathetic figures in modern history.

STUDENT STRIKES

Bridgeport, Conn., school authorities believe they and not the students should control school affairs.

They made this plain in connection with a strike of high school students for shorter hours. After remaining away from classes for two days, the 187 strikers sought to return. The board of education promptly barred them in accordance with a decision reached at a special meeting. The strikers were informed that before they would be permitted to return their parents would have to consult the high school principal.

Strikes by students do not constitute the proper way of settling questions of school administration. School strikes are becoming more frequent in America. They should be discouraged, and the Bridgeport way offers an effective method.

TOM, DICK AND HARRIET

In a pertinent and striking paraphrase of a familiar saying a Washington correspondent the other day, wrote:

"Later they got it (stock) listed on the stock exchange, and sales were made to any Tom, Dick or Harriet."

The correspondent has dropped Harry from the triumvirate so familiarly the symbol of the non-exclusive and substituted Harriet, thus giving women representation, as befits their greatly enlarged place in all human activities, even on the speculative market. There ought to be other adaptations of the same kind and for the same reason. We suggest that John Doe and Richard Roe be superseded by John Doe and Rachel Roe. In justice to women's place in public affairs Uncle Sam should be coupled or alternated with Aunt Mary.

The victor at least should share the spoils. Of course, if spoils and honors are to be shared under the new feminine freedom, so must the responsibilities. The goddess of liberty was created feminine when women had little to do with the liberties or the oppressions of the human race. Now the figure becomes more consistent, but one of these days, man, maddened by inglorious relegation, will insist that the torch is too heavy for feminine hands alone.

AMERICA'S HEROES

Once in a blue moon the grand old game of baseball tosses to the top a character so typically American that the public takes him to its heart and makes a national hero of him.

This happened years ago with Ty Cobb; it happened a little later with Babe Ruth; it seems to have happened again this fall with Dizzy Dean.

All these men exemplify to perfection the kind of spirit that makes baseball such a definitely and everlasting American form of sport.

Cobb represented the flaming, unendingly competitive young athlete who was out to win at all costs. There was an aura of rowdiness about him, which was as it should be—fore baseball. Fundamentally, has a streak of rowdiness itself.

Ruth was the big, burly, bruiser type; the physical giant whose natural gifts are coupled with an intense, juvenile joy in life.

And Dean, in turn, is the bargaint who is forever making good his boasts.

Every small town, every big city neighborhood, has seen these men in miniature, over and over again. And that is why they became national figures.

Plenty of people waste a lot of time wishing it were tomorrow.

The person who gives but little advice and applauds frequently is usually popular.

It isn't poverty that develops strong character; it is the determination to get out of it.

One thing you can say for this country is that everybody has a chance to become poor and honest.

American women are becoming larger, we are informed. Well, quite a few of them seem to have outgrown their bathing suits.

SPEAKING OF GREENBERG

The Irish didn't like it when they heard of Greenberg fame.

For they thought a good first baseman should possess an Irish name.

And the Murphys and Mulrooneys said they never dreamed they'd see

A Jewish boy from Bronxville out where Casey used to be.

In the early days of April not a Dugan played his hat.

Or prayed to see a "double" when Hank Greenberg came to bat.

In July the Irish wondered where he'd ever learned to play.

"He makes me think of Casey!" Old Man Murphy dared to say.

And with fifty seven doubles and a score of homers made

The respect they had for Greenberg was being openly displayed.

But upon the Jewish New Year when Hank Greenberg came to bat

And made two home runs off Pitcher Rhodes—they cheered like mad for that.

Came Yom Kippur—holy feast day world wide over to the Jew—

And Hank Greenberg to his teaching and the old tradition true

Spent the day among his people and he didn't come to play.

Said Murphy to Mulrooney, "We shall lose the game today!"

We shall miss him on the infield and shall miss him at the bat.

But he's true to his religion—and I honor him for that!"

DON'T MAKE A BUSINESS OF YOUR PLEASURE

You have devoted years to your line of work and are not perfect.

Yet you expect to be perfect in your line of sport for leisure hours.

Isn't it foolish to be angered and disappointed when you fail to excel in recreational activities?

Why make a job out of a pastime? Why allow angry emotions to sway you when you lose in a game?

If you do a certain thing for pleasure, why not approach it in the proper spirit so that you may get enjoyment out of it, notwithstanding your mistakes.

The disposition you show in your play is a pretty fair barometer by which your companion can judge your character.

In ordinary conditions you keep yourself in control, but this is very often not true when you engage in a favorite sport.

The benefit of recreation is lost when temper is displayed.

The more quiet and collected you are the better you will take hold of essentials to work or in play.

Your mind cannot be two places at once, whether it be work or play. Be sure that you make play out of your recreation.

PITY POOR PETER

LITTLE Peter Karageorge, who became King of Yugoslavia upon the assassination of his father, was called upon over night to give up the simple wholesome life of an English school boy and assume the responsibilities and burdensome routine of a European monarch.

Peter's life, because he is of royal blood, was not destined to contain the ordinary type of happiness in store for the average youth of today. Since his birth he has been subjected to the mandates of age-old traditions and royal customs. His every act has been well considered, carefully planned and done in a specified manner. He has been trained in the discipline of a soldier and a leader.

Had Peter's father not been assassinated at Marseille the other day, the youth would have continued to develop in the wholesome atmosphere of English life and to have obtained, at least, the normal happiness he enjoyed there. But now his boyhood has been nipped at an early stage. He is no longer carefree and boyish. He has become a man—a king.

Too frequently we would envy the riches and power of a monarch. Beyond the surface of royal life we find considerable unhappiness, considerable self-denial and personal sacrifice for the benefit of a nation and its people. Little Peter is no longer an individual, seeking the normal pleasures of life. He is the figure-head of government. He must conduct himself in the interests of his people and submerge his own pleasures for the well-being of Yugoslavia.

We cannot envy any monarch—prisoners that they are within their own castles. But we pity the unfortunate youth who must now forego his school life and become King of Yugoslavia.

Yugoslavia is a turbulent land set down in a troublous and incalculable situation. Of eight kings since Serbia won her independence from Turkey in 1804, three were assassinated, one was driven from his throne by revolt, another was forced to abdicate and only three died natural deaths upon their thrones.

The 11-year-old boy, who now becomes king of this land, is one of the most pathetic figures in modern history.

STUDENT STRIKES

Bridgeport, Conn., school authorities believe they and not the students should control school affairs.

They made this plain in connection with a strike of high school students for shorter hours. After remaining away from classes for two days, the 187 strikers sought to return. The board of education promptly barred them in accordance with a decision reached at a special meeting. The strikers were informed that before they would be permitted to return their parents would have to consult the high school principal.

Strikes by students do not constitute the proper way of settling questions of school administration. School strikes are becoming more frequent in America. They should be discouraged, and the Bridgeport way offers an effective method.

TOM, DICK AND HARRIET

In a pertinent and striking paraphrase of a familiar saying a Washington correspondent the other day, wrote:

"Later they got it (stock) listed on the stock exchange, and sales were made to any Tom, Dick or Harriet."

The correspondent has dropped Harry from the triumvirate so familiarly the symbol of the non-exclusive and substituted Harriet, thus giving women representation, as befits their greatly enlarged place in all human activities, even on the speculative market. There ought to be other adaptations of the same kind and for the same reason. We suggest that John Doe and Richard Roe be superseded by John Doe and Rachel Roe. In justice to women's place in public affairs Uncle Sam should be coupled or alternated with Aunt Mary.

The victor at least should share the spoils. Of course, if spoils and honors are to be shared under the new feminine freedom, so must the responsibilities. The goddess of liberty was created feminine when women had little to do with the liberties or the oppressions of the human race. Now the figure becomes more consistent, but one of these days, man, maddened by inglorious relegation, will insist that the torch is too heavy for feminine hands alone.

AMERICA'S HEROES

Once in a blue moon the grand old game of baseball tosses to the top a character so typically American that the public takes him to its heart and makes a national hero of him.

This happened years ago with Ty Cobb; it happened a little later with Babe Ruth; it seems to have happened again this fall with Dizzy Dean.

All these men exemplify to perfection the kind of spirit that makes baseball such a definitely and everlasting American form of sport.

Cobb represented the flaming, unendingly competitive young athlete who was out to win at all costs. There was an aura of rowdiness about him, which was as it should be—fore baseball. Fundamentally, has a streak of rowdiness itself.

Ruth was the big, burly, bruiser type; the physical giant whose natural gifts are coupled with an intense, juvenile joy in life.

And Dean, in turn, is the braggart who is forever making good his boasts.

Every small town, every big city neighborhood, has seen these men in miniature, over and over again. And that is why they became national figures.

Plenty of people waste a lot of time wishing it were tomorrow.

The person who gives but little advice and applauds frequently is usually popular.

It isn't poverty that develops strong character; it is the determination to get out of it.

One thing you can say for this country is that everybody has a chance to become poor and honest.

American women are becoming larger, we are informed. Well, quite a few of them seem to have outgrown their bathing suits.

SPEAKING OF GREENBERG

The Irish didn't like it when they heard of Greenberg fame. For they thought a good first baseman should possess an Irish name.

And the Murphys and Mulroneys said they never dreamed they'd see a Jewish boy from Brooklyn out where Casey used to be.

In the early days of April not a Dugan tipped his hat.

Or prayed to see a "double" when Hank Greenberg came to bat.

In July the Irish wondered where he'd ever learned to play.

"He makes me think of Casey!" Old Man Murphy dared to say.

And with fifty seven doubles and a score of homers made.

The respect they had for Greenberg was being openly displayed.

But upon the Jewish New Year when Hank Greenberg came to bat.

And made two home runs off Pitcher Rhodes—they cheered like mad for that.

Came Yom Kippur—holy feast day world over to the Jew.

And Hank Greenberg to his teaching and the old tradition true.

Spent the day among his people and he didn't come to play.

Said Murphy to Mulrooney, "We shall lose the game today!"

We shall miss him on the infield and shall miss him at the bat.

But he's true to his religion—and I honor him for that!"

DON'T MAKE A BUSINESS OF YOUR PLEASURE

You have devoted years to your line of work and are not perfect.

Yet you expect to be perfect in your line of sport for leisure hours.

Isn't it foolish to be angered and disappointed when you fail to excel in recreational activities?

Why make a job out of a pastime? Why allow angry emotions to sway you when you lose in a game?

If you do a certain thing for pleasure, why not approach it in the proper spirit so that you may get enjoyment out of it, notwithstanding your mistakes?

The disposition you show in your play is a pretty fair barometer by which your companion can judge your character.

In ordinary conditions you keep yourself in control, but this is very often not true when you engage in a favorite sport.

The benefit of recreation is lost when temper is displayed.

The more quiet and collected you are the better you will take hold of essentials to work or in play.

Your mind cannot be two places at once, whether it be work or play.

Be sure that you make play out of your recreation.

The original name of the alcoholic monstrosity concocted by distilling grain and flavoring it with juniper berries, fennel, coriander seed, salt, turpentine and other condiments is really "ginerva"—not "gin" as it is usually called. President Tries to Placate Inflationists
Commodity Price Level Is Obstacle
Frozen Bank Deposits Still Issue

Central Press
225 East 46th street
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—President Roosevelt evidently is trying to offset inflationist demand from congress next January. The word is that he will reduce the gold content of the dollar still further in order to "raise prices"—chiefly agricultural prices.

Two things, however, will be against the president:

1. Price reaction.

2. The makeup of congress.

First, commodity prices do not remain up under mere "shots in the arm" via the inflation "tonic".

If next summer brings an even less than normal grain crop, world prices will decline. The American wheat price even now is pegged above the world price—not a healthful proceeding.

Commodity prices unfortunately drop prior to the cost of manufactured articles during inflation reactions. Thus, the agriculturist, to save himself, will demand more and more "tonic."

Secondly, the incoming congress will not be satisfied with "mere" dollar devaluation. It will not take that into consideration, nor the inflationary processes of an unbalanced budget nor huge expenditures nor the expansion of credit. The incoming congress will consider itself to have a mandate to go "beyond Roosevelt."

Prior to the end of 1935, conservatism may be fleeing to Roosevelt for "protection" from the "wild-eyed radicals."

BANK PAYOFF

Nor should it be believed that a federal payoff for depositors in closed banks has been forgotten. That group of citizenry believes the Roosevelt administration "betrayed" it at the last session of congress.

It considers the Rooseveltian arguments against a payoff as specious.

The president was reputed to have said last spring that persons who invested in a business would not expect the government to make good their losses.

The depositors contend that a bank is not a business, but a quasi-public institution supervised either by federal or state government.

The largest banks to fail—in Detroit, Cleveland, Akron—all were federal reserve banks. What is the public to understand "federal reserve" to mean? That is the question ruined depositors ask.

Now a depositor—a business man, we shall say—not only has lost his working capital, but is unable to obtain credit, to boot, for his business.

In Cleveland, worst hit of all the bank failure cities, deposits have RISEN $68,000,000 so far this year, but loans have DECREASED $33,000,000.

In brief, deflation still continues where reflation is needed the most.

The bank payoff group may suggest that the government nationalize the banks and credit—and at least supply credit to the depositor whose money remains frozen.

The RFC has not relaxed its rules in lending money for payoffs. It demands good security—but securities in cities where deposits and credit are frozen cannot possibly rise in value.

The administration will hear much concerning this from congress.

The World War Day-By-Day

Oct. 15, 1914.—It was the anniversary of the incarceration of Napoleon Bonaparte at St. Helena, a century before.

Europe thought its troubles were over when his cancerous hulk was buried alive upon the bleak southern isle. His ashes were mouldering now in a Paris shrine, but his soul was marching on. Because of rampant spirits he loosened upon Europe, the continent was being bathed in blood again.

He had held on Britain, Russia, Austria and lesser countries until his home front crumbled. Now Germany, with more hindrance than help from Austria-Hungary, was holding off Britain, Belgium, France, Russia, Serbia, Montenegro and Japan. She was outnumbered two to one, and the odds were increasing.

To offset these odds, she had the advantage of long and complete military preparation, high morale and strong economic organization. The latter had become the most important.

For it was apparent to both sides now that the war could not be won upon the battlefield until the home front had been crumbled. It had become a test of economic endurance. The decision depended upon which side would be able to feed and keep its peoples in order for the longest time.

The Kaiser, like Napoleon, will be beaten by the wolf at the door, not by cannon across the street.

On this date, Germans occupied Ostend and were in position to launch the air attacks on England which they hoped would crush the spirit of resistance in its people.

From Wilhelmstrasse to Washington a sharp note was dispatched. It stated that the German government had learned from "an official notice" in a London newspaper that the Department of State had ruled that ships of belligerent nations when equipped with ammunition and armament "shall nevertheless be treated, while in American ports, as merchant ships, provided the armament serves for defensive purposes only."

"This ruling," the German foreign minister declared, "wholly fails to comply with the principles of neutrality. The equipment of British merchant vessels with artillery is for the purpose of making armed resistance against German cruisers. Resistance of this sort is contrary to international law. . . . It is a question whether ships thus armed should be admitted into ports of a neutral country at all. Such ships, in any event, should be subject at least to the rules issued by neutral nations restricting the stay of a warship."

The U. S. stuck to its guns, and armed British and French merchantmen continued to be received. There were no armed German warships had swept German shipping from the seas. More than 200 Central Power ships had taken refuge in U. S. ports and been interned.

Few German cruisers were still at large for Allied merchant ships to resist. Germany really was concerned because of what armed merchantmen could do to her submarines.

During the week, only 21 accidents involving motor cars occurred in the city. Three persons were injured early Sunday morning and this accident according to reports made to police was caused by fog. It occurred on the Mahoning viaduct. Included in the 21 accidents reported were several in which children were reported to have darted into the carway and struck the side of motor cars. Fortunately they were not injured.

It is probable that city police soon will turn their eyes toward jaywalkers. It is probable according to reports that persons who step from curbs between regular street crossings will be informed that they are inviting accidents. This sort of a campaign would no doubt help decrease accidents. No person who crosses a street at other than a proper crossing could take offense if a policeman informed them that they are inviting an accident.

During the past week City Controller Earl Wimer has spent considerable time at the offices of the public school system in East street conducting an audit. Under the law the city controller must audit the books. Not so long ago the controller received a communication thanking him for the manner in which he performed his work.

Local Hospitals Get High Rating

Are Given Approval Of American College Of Surgeons For Coming Year

Both the Jameson Memorial and New Castle hospitals are given the approval of the American College of Surgeons, according to the seventeenth annual report presented today by Dr. Franklin H. Marvyn, founder and director general of the college, on the hospital standardization movement.

"Hospital care in the United States and Canada, despite trying economic conditions of the last five years, has shown a most gratifying improvement in service," Dr. Marvyn comments in his report. "Those hospitals approved by the American College of Surgeons, have been successful in their determined efforts to provide efficient care for the sick and injured."

The honor conferred on the two local hospitals is a significant one, as it stamps them as among the finest in the country. Approval is given this year to 2,460 hospitals in the United States and Canada.

"Two significant facts of much importance to the public are revealed in this year's survey," says Dr. Marvyn. "The death rate in hospitals is below that of last year, and the period of hospitalization has been shortened."

THEY ALL NEED ENERGY... SO THEY "GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!"

BUSINESS WOMAN. Miss Eve Miller says: "Camels give me a 'lift' when my energy is low."

SCIENTIST. Russell F. Mann says: "I like the mild flavor of Camels better and better!"

PHARMACIST. W. A. Seaman says: "Nerves don't trouble me—and I don't ever want them to, either. I smoke a great deal in my line of work, and I stick to Camels. They never interfere with healthy nerves and just suit my taste."

CIRCUS ARTIST. Antoinette Concello: "I smoke Camels. They never upset my nerves."

CARTOONIST. Chon Day, well-known cartoonist, says: "I often work 10-11-12 hours at a stretch and am smoking Camels all the time. They help to increase my 'zip' when I feel tired or glum, and I also find that Camels never upset my nerves."

PRO FOOTBALL ACE. "Cliff" Montgomery says: "After a tiring game, or any time when I feel like it, I light up a Camel and get a swell 'lift'—soon feel 100% again. I am seldom without a Camel—they don't interfere with healthy nerves."

THE fact that smoking a Camel does produce an increase in energy has drawn people in every walk of life to Camels.

On this page you will find Camel's "energizing effect" discussed by many smokers. They emphasize the fact that Camels do give them a healthful, enjoyable lift in energy when they are tired. They speak of the pleasure they get from Camels' mild, rich taste. And over and over comes word from steady smokers that Camels never interfere with healthy nerves.

And so—in light of the experiences of other smokers, and of the scientific evidence confirming Camel's "energizing effect"—turn to Camels yourself!

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard reports 31 sheriff sales listed for November. This is the largest number in any one month since he assumed office. Holders of mortgages in many cases would not foreclose were it not for the fact that taxes have not been paid and have been accruing against properties.

Despite the fact that the county commissioners have granted an extension of time during which county taxes can be paid at their face, there is very little 1934 tax money now coming into the county treasurer's hands. It looks as though a large amount will be turned over to the delinquent tax collector in December. Principal tax payments coming into the treasurer's office now are from property on which there are mortgages which are being refinanced by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

County commissioners have shelved off a part of a room located over the furnace in the boiler house for the storage of old tax record books. These books were formerly kept in the sheriff's office. They have been cleaned up and transferred to their new home. The books contain the assessments of properties from the

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 14, 75 arrests on charges as follows: violation of auto ordinances 37, speeding 19, drunkenness 13, drunkenness and disorderly conduct 2, keeper of disorderly house 1, visitors to a disorderly house 3.

During the week, only 21 accidents involving motor cars occurred in the city. Three persons were injured early Sunday morning and this accident according to reports made to police was caused by fog. It occurred on the Mahoning viaduct. Included in the 21 accidents reported were several in which children were reported to have darted into the cartway and struck the side of motor cars. Fortunately they were not injured.

It is probable that city police soon will turn their eyes toward jaywalking. It is probable according to reports that persons who step from curbs between regular street crossings will be informed that they are inviting accidents. This sort of a campaign would no doubt help decrease accidents. No person who crosses a street at other than a proper crossing could take offense if a policeman informed them that they are inviting an accident.

During the past week City Controller Earl Wimer has spent considerable time at the offices of the public school system in East street conducting an audit. Under the law the city controller must audit the books. Not so long ago the controller received a communication thanking him for the manner in which he performed his work.

Local Hospitals Get High Rating

Are Given Approval Of American College Of Surgeons For Coming Year

Both the Jameson Memorial and New Castle hospitals are given the approval of the American College of Surgeons, according to the seventeenth annual report presented today by Dr. Franklin H. Maryin, founder and director general of the college, on the hospital standardization movement.

"Hospital care in the United States and Canada, despite trying economic conditions of the last five years, has shown a most gratifying improvement in service," Dr. Martin comments in his report. "Those hospitals approved by the American College of Surgeons, have been successful in their determined efforts to provide efficient care for the sick and injured."

The honor conferred on the two local hospitals is a significant one, as it stamps them as among the finest in the country. Approval is given this year to 2,480 hospitals in the United States and Canada.

"Two significant facts of much importance to the public are revealed in this year's survey," says Dr. Martin. "The death rate in hospitals is below that of last year, and the period of hospitalization has been shortened."

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

On Court House Hill

Over 2000 hunting licenses have been issued to date, according to County Treasurer William O. Pitts.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard reports 31 sheriff sales listed for November. This is the largest number in any one month since he assumed office. Holders of mortgages in many cases would not foreclose were it not for the fact that taxes have not been paid and have been accruing against properties.

Despite the fact that the county commissioners have granted an extension of time during which county taxes can be paid at their face, there is very little 1934 tax money now coming into the county treasurer's hands. It looks as though a large amount will be turned over to the delinquent tax collector in December. Principal tax payments coming into the treasurer's office now are from property on which there are mortgages which are being re-financed by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

County commissioners have shelved off a part of a room located over the furnaces in the boiler house for the storage of old tax record books. These books were formerly kept in the sheriff's office. They have been cleaned up and transferred to their new home. The books contain the assessments of properties from the time Lawrence county was established up until recent years. It is not often that any of them are needed, but when they are they will now be handy to get at. If, and when, the basement of the court house is taken out, or an addition built, the books will be transferred to it.

Superintendent Perry Snyder of the county home, with the help of inmates, has now harvested 400 bushels of potatoes, with a lot more yet to dig.

County Commissioner F. R. Woods was conferring with a prospective inmate of the county home last week when the man raised the question as to whether or not he could vote in the November election if he went to the home. He said that that he had always considered it the duty of a good citizen to vote and he did not want to lose his vote.

Mr. Woods took the matter up with Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., who was of the opinion that a man does not lose his vote by going to the county home, provided that he is registered. If he is a resident of the county, outside of the home, he would be registered by the register-assessor, but if he lives in the city he would have to have registered at one of the recent registration days in order to be eligible to vote in November, if a resident of the county home.

The Lawrence Savings & Trust company has filed in the probatory's office a summons in assumption against Samuel Edelstein, executor in the estate of H. Edelstein and Meyer Levine. All three were on a note for $7,380. After the death of S. Edelstein in November, 1933, judgment was confessed against S. Edelstein and Meyer Levine, surviving obligors. There is also a similar note for $2,544.00 upon which summons is issued. The summons is returnable on the first Monday of November.

Verdict for $1,155.76 against Hoover & Porter, general contractors, was returned at court in a case brought by the Hachmeister-Lind company. The case was one in which Hoover & Porter had employed the plaintiff company to lay a floor in a school building at Ellwood City.

Health Week

"What crimes are committed in the name of diet," declares a bulletin of the Lawrence County Medical Society, which is today celebrating the annual Pennsylvania Health Week, observed throughout the State under the sponsorship of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania.

"There is no more fertile field for quackery than in that pertaining to diet," adds the bulletin, "and many people are being misled daily by charlatans who are self-seeking and benefit at the expense of the public's digestion. There is no secret about diets, as any doctor will tell you, but there is a great deal of 'racket' about the so-called diets."

Till about the year 1828, a Democrat was one who inclined to a French rather than an English system of government, and advocated as much simplicity as possible in the administration of public affairs.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 14, 75 arrests on charges as follows: violation of auto ordinances 37, speeding 19, drunkenness 13, drunkenness and disorderly conduct 2, keeper of disorderly house 1, visitors to a disorderly house 3.

During the week, only 21 accidents involving motor cars occurred in the city. Three persons were injured early Sunday morning and this accident according to reports made to police was caused by fog. It occurred on the Mahoning viaduct. Included in the 21 accidents reported were several in which children were reported to have darted into the roadway and struck the side of motor cars. Fortunately they were not injured.

It is probable that city police soon will turn their eyes toward jaywalking. It is probable according to reports that persons who step from curbs between regular street crossings will be informed that they are inviting accidents. This sort of a campaign would no doubt help decrease accidents. No person who crosses a street at other than a proper crossing could take offense if a policeman informed them that they are inviting an accident.

During the past week City Controller Earl Wimer has spent considerable time at the offices of the public school system in East street conducting an audit. Under the law the city controller must audit the books. Not so long ago the controller received a communication thanking him for the manner in which he performed his work.

Local Hospitals Get High Rating

Are Given Approval Of American College Of Surgeons For Coming Year

Both the Jameson Memorial and New Castle Hospitals are given the approval of the American College of Surgeons, according to the seventeenth annual report presented today by Dr. Franklin H. Maryin, founder and director general of the college, on the hospital standardization movement.

"Hospital care in the United States and Canada, despite trying economic conditions of the last five years, has shown a most gratifying improvement in service," Dr. Maryin comments in his report. "Those hospitals approved by the American College of Surgeons, have been successful in their determined efforts to provide efficient care for the sick and injured."

The honor conferred on the two local hospitals is a significant one, as it stamps them as among the finest in the country. Approval is given this year to 2,490 hospitals in the United States and Canada.

"Two significant facts of much importance to the public are revealed in this year's survey," says Dr. Maryin. "The death rate in hospitals is below that of last year, and the period of hospitalization has been shortened."

Superintendent Perry Snyder of the county home, with the help of inmates, has now harvested 400 bushels of potatoes, with a lot more yet to dig.

County Commissioner F. R. Woods was conferring with a prospective inmate of the county home last week when the man raised the question as to whether or not he could vote in the November election if he went to the home. He said that he had always considered it the duty of a good citizen to vote and he did not want to lose his vote.

Mr. Woods took the matter up with Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., who was of the opinion that a man does not lose his vote by going to the county home, provided that he is registered. If he is a resident of the county, outside of New Castle, he would be registered by the register-assessor, but if he lives in the city he would have to have registered at one of the recent registration days in order to be eligible to vote in November, if a resident of the county home.

There is also a similar note for $2,544.90 upon which summons is issued. The summons is returnable on the first Monday of November.

Health Week

What crimes are committed in the name of diet? declares a bulletin of the Lawrence County Medical Society, which is today celebrating the annual Pennsylvania Health Week, observed throughout the State under the sponsorship of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania.

"There is no more fertile field for quackery than in that pertaining to diet," adds the bulletin, "and many people are being misled daily by imitations who are selling their wares at the expense of the public's health. There is no secret about diets, as any doctor will tell you, but there is a great deal of 'racket' about the so-called diets."

On the year 1628, a Demon was one who adhered to a French rather than an English system of government, and advocated as much simplicity as possible in the administration of public affairs.

OFTEN WISHED HE HADN'T EATEN HIS STOMACH BECAME SO UPSET

New Castle man had had case of stomach disorder, felt dizzy, nerves on edge, and constipated daily. Says new medicine Vendol gave grand relief.

"I suffered so much from indigestion and gastritis after meals that I often wished I hadn't eaten; but Vendol has changed all this and now I enjoy my meals thoroughly," said Mr. John P. Latimer, a retired farmer living on Highland avenue extension, New Castle.

"I had to be careful of what I ate, especially in the evening. If I wasn't careful, I would be restless and sleepless all night. My liver was out of order which brought on dizzy spells and dull headaches, and sometimes there was severe pressure on my heart which caused shortness of breath.

"Seeing Vendol so highly recommended by people living here in town, I decided to give it a trial, and it has done me worlds of good and really acted much quicker than I thought any medicine could.

"I now eat hearty meals and enjoy them without suffering from indigestion later. I never feel dizzy and get good restful sleep every night. After Vendol did so much good for me, I can strongly advise others to try this herbal medicine."

Woman Hurt In Peculiar Manner

Mrs. Ruth Kamerer of New Kensington received treatment for brush burns about the leg, received when she was dragged from the car driven by her husband, near the Dixie Inn, on the Butler road, Saturday afternoon, as a gust of wind whirled the door open.

Mr. and Mrs. Kamerer were driving along the road, when Mrs. Kamerer went to fasten the door more securely. As she opened it, the wind caught it with full force, dragging her out of the machine, onto the highway.

She was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment and was able to return to her home Sunday.

Correct this sentence: "When is asked the husband a question," said the doctor, "the wife kept still and let him answer it."

OFTEN WISHED HE HADN'T EATEN HIS STOMACH BECAME SO UPSET

New Castle man had bad case of stomach disorder, felt dizzy, nerves on edge, and constipated daily. Says new medicine Vendol gave grand relief.

"I suffered so much from indigestion and gastritis after meals that I often wished I hadn't eaten; but Vendol has changed all this and now I enjoy my meals thoroughly," said Mr. John P. Latimer, a retired farmer living on Highland avenue extension, New Castle.

"I had to be careful of what I ate, especially in the evening. If I wasn't careful, I would be restless and sleepless all night. My liver was out of order which brought on dizzy spells and dull headaches, and sometimes there was severe pressure on my heart which caused shortness of breath.

"Seeing Vendol so highly recommended by people living here in town, I decided to give it a trial, and it has done me worlds of good and really acted much quicker than I thought any medicine could.

"I now eat hearty meals and enjoy them without suffering from indigestion later. I never feel dizzy and get good restful sleep every night. After Vendol did so much good for me, I can strongly advise others to try this herbal medicine."

BOBBY EDWARDS SEEKS TO GET NEW TRIAL

Spotlight On One Of Jurors

Defense Charges Statements Made By Juror Demand New Trial

ERRORS IN TRIAL ALSO ASSERTED

(International News Service) WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 15.—Bobby Edwards' fight for a new trial to escape the death sentence imposed by a Luzerne county jury October 6 for the "American tragedy" slaying of Freda McKeechle was scheduled to be reviewed today by the full Luzerne county bench.

The spotlight was focused on John Luff of Edwinstown, one of the jurors in the sensational case, who, the defense charges, frequently boasted that Edwards, 21-year-old mining engineer, would "burn" in the electric chair if he were called for jury duty at the trial.

Luff, who knew both the Edwards and McKeechle families and so declared when he was interrogated as a prospective juror, has threatened to "tell plenty" if called to the stand today.

Affidavits Filed.
Attorneys Frank McKelgan and John A. Phillips, counsel for Bobby, who was sentenced to death by a jury for killing Freda, six years his senior, in order to be unhampered in carrying on another romance with Margaret Crain, 23, of East Aurora, N. Y., have filed with the court affidavits signed by Francis O. Gibbons, Charles Hennessey and Leroy Wolfe, upholding their charges against Luff.

The court will be asked to grant a new trial on nine assignments of error and the charge against Luff and Bobby's attorneys have indicated that if they are unsuccessful in obtaining a new trial the case will be carried to the highest courts in Pennsylvania and even to the governor's office.

Charge Errors.
The defense has charged that Judge W. A. Valentine, who presided in the case, erred in admitting as evidence the 172 purple, erotic love letters which Bobby penned to Miss Crain. The defense charges introduction of the letters created a collateral issue, presumably the improper relations between the couple which were vividly reviewed in the letters.

In addition to the usual technical assignments of error, the defense charged that Judge Valentine erred further in admitting the testimony of William B. Healey, warden of Luzerne county jail, and Dr. Stanley Freeman. Warden Healey and Dr. Freeman told the jury of conversations they had with Edwards in which they quoted him as admitting he killed Freda, an expectant mother, with a blackjack on the night of July 30 at a strange midnight swimming rendezvous at Harvey's lake.

Oil City's district conference of Northwestern Pennsylvania's Elks' lodges, attended Sunday by over 200 representatives from 15 of the district's 19 lodges, attracted a small delegation from the New Castle lodge, No. 69.

From the local lodge went C. H. Buel, C. W. Herman, Hese and Edward J. Ryan. Their wives accompanied them.

Beaver Falls lodge will be host to the next monthly conference on November 11.

Cadwalader Colden came to Philadelphia from Scotland in 1730 and for several years practiced medicine. He later moved to New York where he became lieutenant-governor of that colony.

Sunshine And Snow.
$100,000,000 To His Widow.
A Servile Race.
No Inflation—Yet.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

"SNOW covered large areas in New England, and New York was shivering Saturday, but there are always thousands of warm square miles of land in the United States, with unlimited sunlight."

Col. Frank B. Shuts, of Miami, drops in to tell you and the rest of the world that Florida's sunshine has more active rays creating vitamins than a centipede has legs, and he would like you to know that 80,000 members of the American Legion, coming to Miami in a few days, have reserved and paid for 70,000 beds. Some of them will sleep on the ships that bring them to Miami harbor.

FLORIDA, according to Col. Shuts, who owns the successful Miami Herald, admits that Florida is feeling unusually cheerful because Mr. Upton Sinclair, candidate for governor in California, is expected to send the moving picture business over to the southeast end of the United States, which is Florida.

THE LATE Percy Rockefeller, son of John D. Rockefeller's brother, William, said to have left one hundred millions behind him, gave everything to his widow, Mrs. John A. Garver and the National City Bank of New York are executor and trustee.

Mr. Rockefeller's will mentions no gifts to charity. Perhaps he thought his widow would spend the money as wisely as any charity could spend it, and perhaps he was right.

At least he set a good example, showing appreciation of his wife and leaving her the "head of the family."

PETER, the second, 11-year-old King of Yugoslavia, is greeted at the frontier of his country, and at railway stations along the way to Belgrade, with uproarious enthusiasm, although the little boy, fresh from an English school, is needless to say quite unfit to rule or pretend to rule any nation, particularly a nation torn by bitter racial hatreds.

But the human race is largely a servile race, wants to be ruled, to bow down to a king, a dictator, a demagogue or something. Anything rather than stand erect and independent upon its own feet.

It is not, however, for the United States to criticize Yugoslavia, cheering "a king," 11 years old, while crowds as great in this country cheer self-appointed kings, or miracle workers, in Louisiana, California and elsewhere.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, according to Washington, "throws cold water on inflation suggestions," but there is hardly enough cold water to drown the suggestions. The President emphasizes the fact that there is no need of any inflation action "at this time."

The President, firm in his determination to keep the American dollar as good as anybody else's dollar, franc, pound, mark, ruble, yen, tael, rupee or zloty, is apparently succeeding, for the dollar went up, in comparison with the pound, yesterday.

What is money? No one knows. But you do know that the "d. o. u." of the citizen represents the financial worth of that citizen and the dollar of the United States represents the financial worth of the United States. Whoever doubts that value should, in the language of the angel, "come and see!"

IN HIS PALACE at Belgrade, young Peter, the new king, says to a guard saluting him, "God save you." That may be old fashioned, but it is more pleasing than our American "How's a boy?"

FRENCH AUTHORITIES announce a new "death light ray" manufactured from a metal pronged only in this country. This ray of light, turned on an airplane, would paralyze the pilot, and bring his plane to earth. The light, reduced in power, can be packed into a small "flashlight" container for policemen, blinding the criminal and making him helpless without killing him.

Somewhere will find a substance impervious to the "death light ray" and the airplane pilot will go about his business, undisturbed, until a more powerful ray is developed.

IN FRANCE, Paris especially, many are taking the "grape cure," very old and excellent cure, that should be widely established in this country. The grapes, good prohibitionists will understand, are fresh, non-alcoholic. With the French wine industry suffering and grapes abundant "grape dispensaries" have been established at various places in Paris, including railroad stations. The cure consists in eating from one to two and a half pounds of fresh grapes every day.

If Americans would try that in the grape season they would find their health improved. And, fortunately, thanks to cold storage, "the grape season" lasts here nearly all the year round.

WHAT MAY BE the year's really "big news" is the announcement by William H. Dow, before the American Chemical Society, that both gold and silver have actually been extracted from sea water.

Everybody knew that the waters "of the seven seas" contain not merely billions or trillions, but quadrillions of dollars worth of gold. At today's prices so much gold that if it could be extracted cheaply, an ounce of silver in its present limited quantities would be worth 10,000 times as much per ounce as gold.

alleged to have said concerning Hitler that he considers his attitude in regard to the Jews extremely foolish, especially "foolish" Hitler's rule that forbids so-called "Aryans" intermarrying with those of Jewish blood.

Shaw suggests that Hitler should encourage intermarriage among Jews and Gentiles. This, "Shaw" thinks, would "build up Germany." It might "build up Germany," but the suggestion will not appeal to many of the Jews that reside in Germany.

Distinguished English Jews, Disraeli included, married Gentile women, but to a great majority of Orthodox Jews, such marriages are unthinkable.

Jewish purity of race is a fact, and a great majority of Jews are anxious to preserve it, more anxious even than Hitler to preserve the "Aryan race purity," which is more or less of a myth.

Deterioration Of Mail Service Affecting Mr. John J. Citizen Discourages Department Moral

By CHARLES F. STEWART, Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The deterioration of the average citizen's mail service in the last five or six years has been one of the most noticeable things in the life of this country.

In the matter of extra-rapid transmission, by plane, of mail for which particularly high rates are paid, there has been an improvement.

The air service, however, is too expensive for the generality of folk. It is an ordinary first-class mail that the rank and file of American men, women and children are chiefly interested. Anyone who gets an appreciable amount of it cannot but be aware how decidedly the post-office department's handling of it has been slowed up since 1928 to 1930 or thereabouts, despite the government's 33 1-3 per cent increase in its charge for carrying it.

Disorganization Begins.
As recently as Postmaster General Harry E. New's day, under the Coolidge administration, no community of much consequence was without two efficient daily deliveries even in the residential districts, and more than that in its business area. Collections were frequently and regularly made, as per duly advertised schedule.

Postmaster General Walter F. Brown took over this admirably-working system upon Mrs. Hoover's White House advent, maintained it briefly, and then the process of its disorganization began. It became worse and worse until one really might have thought that the limit had been reached. Then Postmaster General James A. Farley inherited it—and under Farley it is nearly as much worse than under Brown as it was under Brown after Harry New.

Whereas Harry New furnished two corks good deliveries a day, Jim Farley furnished one doubtful one, and maybe an apology for a second. Collections are irregularly occasional.

Let any individual draw comparisons between 1928 and 1934, from his own experience with his own mail if he questions this.

Cost Up.
And, of course, the cost of first class postage stamps has been advanced from two to three cents per ounce.

Postmaster General Brown demanded the increase, and congress reluctantly granted it to him. P. M. G. Brown reckoned that the boost would correspondingly boost his revenues but it didn't. It cut the volume of business so much that the three-cent rate has been less profitable than the two-cent rate was. Indeed, the experiment was so decided a flop that, under P. M. G.

Farley, local rates have been cut down to two cents again—but without repairing the damage; three cents, as a long distance rate, still is too greedy.

Brown and Farley, as all students of the mail service know, have fallen into the error of assuming that the postoffice department should be a money-making enterprise instead of which it is obvious that its mission is to render a public service, which ought to pay for itself if possible, but which the public is willing to pay FOR, if necessary.

Subsidies.
This, too, is patent: The mail service has been expected to pay enormous subsidies to ocean shipping and aviation companies—to pay thousands of dollars per ounce to these interests without incurring a deficit.

Such subsidies necessarily have come out of ordinary folk's pockets, in the form of poorer service of the sort THEY patronize.

Harry New undoubtedly began it, but it didn't begin to take effect in his time. It did begin to take effect in Walter Brown's time. It has reached its climax in Jim Farley's.

Personnel Discouraged.
Of all the services which the federal government purports to render, the mail service indisputably is of the greatest value to the most people.

Somewhat it has come to be regarded as the most convenient for political manipulation. P. M. G. Farley, for example, notoriously is Rooseveltian political manager as was P. M. G. Brown, the political manager for the Hooverian regime before him. Harry New was not so much so, but P. M. G. Hubert Worthington, and Will H. Hays, under Harding, and Albert S. Burleson (whose administration was the talk of the wartime generation), under Woodrow Wilson. And so on, back into early American history.

The department's permanent personnel has maintained its morale wonderfully. It has done so, however, under extraordinary difficulties, and they never were greater than at present. I have talked with many of the representatives in Washington. It is no exaggeration to say that they are well high discouraged.

BOBBY EDWARDS SEEKS TO GET NEW TRIAL

Spotlight On One Of Jurors

ERRORS IN TRIAL ALSO ASSERTED

(International News Service) WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 15.—Bobby Edwards' fight for a new trial to escape the death sentence imposed by a Luzerne county jury October 6 for the "American tragedy" slaying of Freda McKechnie was scheduled to be reviewed today by the full Luzerne county bench.

The spotlight was focused on John Luff of Edwinstown, one of the jurors in the sensational case, who, the defense charges, frequently boasted that Edwards, 21-year-old mining engineer, would "burn" in the electric chair if he were called for jury duty at the trial.

Luff, who knew both the Edwards and McKechnie families and so declared when he was interrogated as a prospective juror, was threatened to "tell plenty" if called to the stand today.

Attorneys Filed.
Attorneys Frank McGulgan and John A. Phillips, counsel for Bobby, who was sentenced to death by a jury for killing Freda, six years his senior, in order to be unhampered in carrying on another romance with Margaret Crain, 23, of East Aurora, N. Y., have filed with the court affidavits signed by Francis O. Gibbons, Charles Hennessy and Leroy Wolfe, upholding their charges against Luff.

The court will be asked to grant a new trial on nine assignments of error and the charge against Luff and Bobby's attorneys have indicated that if they are unsuccessful in obtaining a new trial the case will be carried to the highest courts in Pennsylvania and even to the governor's office.

Charge Errors.
The defense has charged that Judge W. A. Valentine, who presided in the case, erred in admitting as evidence the 172 purple, erotic love letters which Bobby penned to Miss Crain. The defense charges introduction of the letters created a collateral issue, presumably the improper relations between the couple which were vividly reviewed in the letters.

In addition to the usual technical assignments of error, the defense charged that Judge Valentine erred further in admitting the testimony of William B. Healey, warden of Luzerne county jail, and Dr. Stanley Freeman. Warden Healey and Dr. Freeman told the jury of conversations they had with Edwards in which they quoted him as admitting he killed Freda, an expectant mother, with a blackjack on the night of July 30 at a strange midnight swimming rendezvous at Harvey's lake.

BOBBY EDWARDS SEEKS TO GET NEW TRIAL

Spotlight On One Of Jurors

ERRORS IN TRIAL ALSO ASSERTED

(International News Service) WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 15.—Bobby Edwards' fight for a new trial to escape the death sentence imposed by a Luzerne county jury October 4 for the "American tragedy" slaying of Freda McKechnie was scheduled to be reviewed today by the full Luzerne county bench.

The spotlight was focused on John Luff, of Edwinstown, one of the jurors in the sensational case, who, the defense charges, frequently boasted that Edwards, 21-year-old mining engineer, would "burn" in the electric chair if he were called for jury duty at the trial.

Luff, who knew both the Edwards and McKechnie families and so declared when he was interrogated as a prospective juror, was threatened to "plot plenty" if called to the stand today.

Attorneys Frank McGuigan and John A. Phillips, counsel for Bobby, who was sentenced to death by a jury for killing Freda, six years his senior, in order to be unhampered in carrying on another romance with Margaret Crain, 23, of East Aurora, N. Y., have filed with the court affidavits signed by Francis O. Gibbons, Charles Hennessy and Leroy Wolfe, upholding their charges against Luff.

The court will be asked to grant a new trial on nine assignments of error and the charge against Luff and Bobby's attorneys have indicated that if they are unsuccessful in obtaining a new trial the case will be carried to the highest courts in Pennsylvania and even to the governor's office.

Charge Errors. The defense has charged that Judge W. A. Valentine, who presided in the case, erred in admitting as evidence the 172 purple, erotic love letters which Bobby penned to Miss Crain. The defense charges introduction of the letters created a collateral issue, presumably the improper relations between the couple which were vividly reviewed in the letters.

In addition to the usual technical assignments of error, the defense charged that Judge Valentine erred further in admitting the testimony of William B. Healey, warden of Luzerne county jail, and Dr. Stanley Freeman, warden of Healey and Dr. Freeman told the jury of conversations they had with Edwards in which they quoted him as admitting he killed Freda, an expectant mother, with a blackjack on the night of July 30 at a strange midnight swimming rendezvous at Harvey's lake.

Sunshine And Snow. $100,000,000 To His Widow.

A Servile Race. No Inflation—Yet.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

SNOW covered large areas in New England, and New York was shivering Saturday, but there are always thousands of warm square miles of land in the United States, with unlimited sunlight.

Col. Frank B. Shutt, of Miami, drops in to tell you and the rest of the world that Florida's sunshine has more active rays creating vitamins than a cantelope, has legs, and he would like you to know that 80,000 members of the American Legion, coming to Miami in a few days, have reserved and paid for 70,000 beds. Some of them will sleep on the ships that bring them; to Miami harbor.

FLORIDA, according to Col. Shutt, who owns the successful Miami Herald, admits that Florida is feeling unusually cheerful for a state in California, is expected to send the moving picture business over to the southeast end of the United States, which is Florida.

THE LATE Percy Rockefeller, son of John D. Rockefeller's brother, William, said to have left one hundred millions behind him, gave everything to his widow, Mr. John A. Garver and the National City Bank of New York are executor and trustee.

Mr. Rockefeller's will mentions no gifts to charity. Perhaps he thought his widow would spend the money as wisely as any charity could spend it, and perhaps he was right.

At least he set a good example, showing appreciation of his wife and leaving her the "head of the family."

PETER the second, 11-year-old King of Jugoslavia, is greeted at the frontier of his country, and at railway stations along the way to Belgrade, with uproarious enthusiasm, although the little boy, fresh from an English school, is, needless to say, quite unfit to rule or pretend to rule any nation, particularly a nation torn by bitter racial hatreds.

But the human race is largely a servile race, wants to be ruled, to bow down to a king, a dictator, a demagogue or something. Anything rather than stand erect and independent upon its own feet.

It is not, however, for the United States to criticize Jugoslavia, cheering "a king" 11 years old, while crowds as great in this country cheer self-appointed kings, or miracle workers, in Louisiana, California and elsewhere.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, according to Washington, "throws cold water on inflation suggestions," but there is hardly enough cold water to drown the suggestions. The President emphasizes the fact that there is no need of any inflation action "at this time."

The President, firm in his determination to keep the American dollar as good as anybody else's dollar, franc, pound, mark, ruble, yen, tael, rupee or zloty, is apparently succeeding, for the dollar went up, in comparison with the pound, yesterday.

What is money? No one knows. But you do know that the "I. O. U." of the citizen represents the financial worth of that citizen and the dollar of the United States represents the financial worth of the United States. Whoever doubts that value should, in the language of the angel, "come and see!"

IN HIS PALACE at Belgrade, young Peter, the new king, says to a guard saluting him, "God save you." That may be old fashioned, but it is more pleasing than our American "How's a boy?"

FRENCH AUTHORITIES announce a new "death light ray" manufactured from a metal procurable only in this country. This ray of light, turned on an airplane, would paralyze the pilot, and bring his plane to earth. The light, reduced in power, can be packed into a small "flashlight" container for policemen, blinding the criminal and making him helpless without killing him.

Somewhere will find a substance impervious to the "death light ray" and the airplane pilot will go about his business, undisturbed, until a more powerful ray is developed.

IN FRANCE, Paris especially, many are taking the "grape cure," very old and excellent cure, that should be widely established in this country. The grapes, good prohibitionists will understand, are fresh, non-alcoholic. With the French wine industry suffering and grapes abundant, "grape dispensaries" have been established at various places in Paris, including railroad stations. The cure consists in eating from one to two and a half pounds of fresh grapes every day.

George Bernard Shaw is alleged to have said concerning Hitler that he considers his attitude in regard to the Jews extremely foolish, especially Hitler's rule that forbids so-called "Aryans" intermarrying with those of Jewish blood.

Shaw suggests that Hitler should encourage intermarriage among Jews and Gentiles. This, Shaw thinks, would "build up Germany."

It might "build up Germany," but the suggestion will not appeal to many of the Jews that reside in Germany.

Distinguished English Jews, Disraeli included, married Gentile women, but to a great majority of Orthodox Jews, such marriages are unthinkable.

Jewish purity of race is a fact, and a great majority of Jews are anxious to preserve it, more anxious even than Hitler to preserve the "Aryan race purity," which is more or less of a myth.

Deterioration Of Mail Service Affecting Mr. John J. Citizen Discourages Department Moral

By CHARLES F. STEWART, Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The deterioration of the average citizen's mail service in the last five or six years has been one of the most noticeable things in the life of this country.

In the matter of extra-rapid transmission, by plane, of mail for which particularly high rates are paid, there has been an improvement.

The air service, however, is too expensive for the generality of folk. It is an ordinary first class mail that the rank and file of American men, women and children are chiefly interested. Anyone who gets an appreciable amount of it cannot but be aware how decidedly the post-office department's handling of it has been slowed up since 1928 to 1930 or thereabouts, despite the government's 33 1-3 per cent increase in its charge for carrying it.

As recently as Postmaster General Harry E. New's day, under the Coolidge administration, no complaint of much consequence was without two efficient daily deliveries even in the residential districts, and Collections were frequently and regularly made, as per duly advertised schedule.

Postmaster General Walter F.

Brown took over this admirably-working system upon Pres. Hoover's White House advent, maintained it briefly, and then the process of its disorganization began. It became worse and worse until one really might have thought that the limit had been reached. Then Postmaster General James A. Farley inherited it—and under Farley it is nearly as much worse than under Brown as it was under Brown after Harry New.

Whereas Harry New furnished two corks of good deliveries a day, Jim Farley furnished one doubtful one, and maybe an apology for a second. Collections are irregularly occasional.

Let any individual draw comparisons between 1928 and 1934, from his own experience with his own mail if he questions this.

Cost Up. And, of course, the cost of first class postage stamps has been advanced from two to three cents per ounce.

Postmaster General Brown demanded the increase, and congress reluctantly granted it to him. P. M. G. Brown reckoned that the boost would correspondingly boost his revenues but it didn't; it cut the volume of business so much that the three-cent rate has been less profitable than the two-cent rate was.

Indeed, the experiment was so decided a flop that, under P. M. G.

Farley, local rates have been cut down to two cents again—but without repairing the damage; three cents, as a long distance rate, still is too greedy.

Brown and Farley, as all students of the mail service know, have fallen into the error of assuming that the postoffice department should be a money-making enterprise instead of which it is obvious that its mission is to render a public service, which ought to pay for itself if possible, but which the public is willing to pay FOR, if necessary.

Subsidies. This, too, is patent.

The mail service has been expected to pay enormous subsidies to ocean shipping and aviation companies—to pay thousands of dollars per ounce to these interests without incurring a deficit.

Such subsidies necessarily have come out of ordinary folk's pockets, in the form of poorer service of the sort THEY patronize.

Harry New undoubtedly began it, but it didn't begin to take effect in his time. It did begin to take effect in Walter Brown's time. It has reached its climax in Jim Farley's.

Personnel Discouraged. Of all the services which the federal government purports to render, the mail service indisputably is of the greatest value to the most people.

Somehow it has come to be regarded as the most convenient for political manipulation. P. M. G. Farley, for example, notoriously was P. M. G. Brown, the political manager for the Hooverian regime before him. Harry New was not so much so, but P. M. G. Hubert Work was, and with H. Hays, under Harding, and Albert S. Burleson (whose administration was the talk of the war-time generation), under Woodrow Wilson. And so on, back into early American history.

The department's permanent personnel has maintained its morale ever, under extraordinary difficulties, and they never were greater than at present. I have talked with many of the representatives in Washington. It is no exaggeration to say that they are well high discouraged.

Silver Program To Be Carried Out

China's Efforts To Have U. S. Call Halt Meet Rebuff

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—China and the rest of the world today had notice that President Roosevelt intends to carry out the program to increase the price of silver.

China's efforts to induce this government to call a halt in that program met with a polite but nevertheless definite rebuff from Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

The only re-assuring word given China was notice of the willingness of this government to "explore" the possibility of exchanging American gold for Chinese silver when the United States is contemplating the purchase of white metal in the world market. The exchange idea was one of the suggestions put forward by China.

In reply to the Chinese note complaining that the American silver price-raising program was threatening China with a potentially serious monetary situation, Secretary Hull noted the program was mandatory by act of congress.

"The ways and means to be used for carrying out this objective are left within the discretion of the executive but the course must be consistent with the achievement of that objective," Hull said.

The Chinese communication, dated Oct. 2, stated American cooperation to prevent a further rise in silver prices and to maintain stability was "particularly vital to China."

It explained the rise in silver "discourages" the export of commodities and thereby impairs China's purchasing power for imports.

"What the Average Man Expects to Get Out of Today's Situation," was Dr. Coleman's subject.

Dr. Coleman Speaks At Rotary Luncheon

NEW CASTLE HIGH DEFEATS WASHINGTON HIGH 9 TO 6

Fleming Tallies On Line Plunge, Score On Safety

Washington High Throws Real Scare Into New Castle In Class AA Battle

Giles Scores For Washington On Pass Of 50 Yards Late In Fourth Period

New Castle high school football team drove another spike in the 1934 class AA conference championship Saturday afternoon at Washington, Pa., by defeating Washington high, 9 to 6, in a tough engagement. Fleming scored the New Castle touchdown. New Castle also tallied two points on a safety. Washington got their touchdown late in the fourth period on a 50-yard forward pass. It was the second major victory of the year for the "Red Hurricane" grid machine.

Close Battle First Half
For the first two periods of the game neither team could get near the goal line. It was just a punting exhibition with Ostrosky and Mumford doing the punting for New Castle and Campbell kicking for the "Little Presidents," and honors were about even. Neither team could gain much through the line. It looked for all the world like a scoreless battle. Both teams were on edge for the important battle.

Hope For Breaks
Campbell kicked to New Castle on the New Castle 19-yard line as the first half ended. The end of the first half found New Castle in possession of the ball on the Washington 40-yard line after a poor kick by Campbell. The most of the playing in the entire first half was done in mid-field, with first one team and then the other backed up against their goal line by dazzling punts.

New Castle Opens Up
After the intermission for the first half the New Castle team came back to the field with the greatest drive seen this year. Something seemed to have snapped. Washington found a gentle "Red Hurricane" in the first half, one that would hardly be enough to knock your hat off, but the New Castle eleven that returned to the field of battle for the second half was altogether different.

Giles kicked off to DeCaprio and the New Castle boy returned the kick 15 yards before being downed. Five first downs were clocked off in succession, faster than a New York taxi meter climbs. It was not long until New Castle had the ball deep into the Washington territory. New Castle advanced the ball to the Washington 30-yard line, and at this point in the game Joe Seibert, the Washington right end, took it upon himself to stop the New Castle attack single-handed and he used his fists to accomplish this purpose, but it was not long until Referee Leo Mackey instructed Seibert to leave the game and New Castle had the ball on the Washington 12-yard line. Goodrich replaced Seibert at end for Washington.

Fleming Scores
Fleming ran the ball for two plays and picked up seven yards. Fleming ran the ball again for a first down on the 1-yard line. It looked as if the red-haired boy had carried it over but Mr. Mackey said, "not yet." On the next play Mumford lost four yards at right tackle and Fleming regained the four that were lost. On the next play Fleming was over the goal line for the only touchdown that New Castle was permitted in the game. Alex Shelloge, who had replaced Palkovitch at left tackle, kicked the extra point.

The remainder of the third period

found New Castle and Washington exchanging punts and doing a lot of forward passing. In fact the Washington team, one touchdown behind, had the air filled with passes in the last two minutes of the third session, but none of them were for more than seven yards.

New Castle Scores Safety
Washington had the ball on the New Castle 40-yard line and lost it by inches as the fourth and final period got under way. Fleming ran the ball for a first down in mid-field.

Salient Figures On Grid Battle

Score: New Castle 9; Washington 6.
First downs: New Castle 7; Washington 5.
Forward passes: New Castle 0 out of 5; Washington 4 out of 8.
Penalties: New Castle 10 yards; Washington 15 yards.
Punts: New Castle 11; Washington 11.
Total yardage: New Castle punts 410 yards; average 37 yards per kick.
Total yardage Washington 310 yards; average 29 yards per kick.

Mumford kicked and the ball rolled over the goal line, passed the safety man, Wilson, who ran over and attempted to run with the ball but was tackled by Fred Shelloge back of the goal line, for a safety. Two more points were chalked up for New Castle.

The ball was exchanged on punts after the kickoff following the making of the safety. The time for the period was drawing to a close. Washington high became desperate for a score. The air was filled with punts.

Washington Scores
Out of this maze of aerial thrusts Campbell drifted back to the Washington 10-yard line and heaved a mighty pass that was taken by Giles on the New Castle 20-yard line and he raced over for the lone Washington touchdown.

The Washington pass for touchdown was one of the highlights of an otherwise drab football game. Campbell's throw carried about 50 yards and was easily taken by Giles. The try for extra point was blocked by New Castle.

There was only time for another kickoff and a few plays by New Castle and the game was over.

Charlert and Washington are in the victory column for New Castle, which leaves Clarion, Turtle Creek and New Kensington high in the Class AA competition remaining on the schedule.

The New Castle line performed brilliantly against Washington. Fleming and Cox did some nice ground gaining for the locals in the backfield. Giles, Campbell, Zadowny, Ruffa and Hanom were the best backs in the Washington lineup.

New Brighton Tops Bessemer

First Defeat Of Year To Bessemer High, 19 To 0, Saturday

Bessemer high school football team's winning streak for 1934 was halted at the New Brighton high field Saturday afternoon 19 to 0 with a strong New Brighton high team taking the honors. Bessemer had won four straight games prior to clashing with the valley eleven.

New Brighton high tallied two touchdowns in the first period with Hornick plunging the ball over the goal line after brilliant work of carrying the ball had been done by Mujwit and Laposky in making three first downs in a row. New Brighton received the kickoff at the start of the game and had a touchdown before two minutes had transpired.

Hornick Tallies.
The New Brighton team tallied again in the first period with Laposky making a first down on the Bessemer 25-yard line after taking a punt from Shoup. Mujwit ran the ball for a first down to the 13-yard line and Hornick carried it to the 2-yard line and on the next play Hornick again tallied on a line buck. Hornick also kicked the extra point.

Bessemer's defense stiffened in the second and third periods and the battle was fairly even, with Bessemer unable to get the ball down near the goal line, but on the other hand New Brighton did not get in scoring position either. The play was in the middle of the field for the greater part of the two periods.

A. Laposky Scores.
Midway of the fourth and final period New Brighton recovered a Bessemer fumble on the Bessemer 25 yard line and started another march to the goal line. A. Laposky, a sub halfback, carried the ball over from the 5-yard line. The extra point failed. Bessemer opened up with a rally late in the game with Navarra making two first downs on sweeping end plays, and carried the ball to the New Brighton 32-yard line. The Bessemer team fought hard, but was simply outclassed by the New Brighton team.

New Castle Sends Crowd To Game

About 400 Rooters At Washington For Battle On Saturday

Up hilly South Main street that leads from the football field to the center of Washington, Pa., New Castle fans trudged Saturday afternoon with the red coated high school band blaring a paean of victory. Once again New Castle defeated the Washington high school team, always a surprise team, and after watching the red and black take the Little Presidents the average fan feels better about the season's chances.

Washington was all steamed up about the game for Washington, always is, for beating New Castle high school has been a successful season in itself in Western Pennsylvania. The fans were enthusiastic over the chances before the game and the blue and white of Washington was evident in the down town section.

Big Crowd
New Castle sent a big crowd of rooters over to the game. Not as many perhaps as have gone in other years but there was at least 400 made the trip. The new road into Washington, route 18 by way of Burgetstown is a fast route and many of the fans made the trip in an hour and thirty minutes for the 78 miles.

The band arrived in Washington about one-thirty in two special buses and immediately began a street concert. They were joined a little later by the Washington high band and the two teams led the parade from the George Washington hotel.

Few Surprises In Week's College Games

Nothing cataclysmic can be seen in the football results which occurred on Saturday. The surprises were in the size of the score in most cases, rather than in the ultimate result, with here and there a minor upset. But it was the favorite to defeat Southern California and did, 20-6 which ameliorates in part that pair of licks the Panther took on the Pacific Coast.

Purdue was not favored to win over Notre Dame and the Ramblers came through with an 18-7 victory. This proved nothing much more than that Notre Dame was the better of the two teams. Chicago verified the report of Michigan State that the University of Michigan was in for a bad year when the Windy City lads took Kipke's outfit 27-0. The last time anything like this happened was sometime after the year of the Chicago fire.

Penn State-Lehigh Old Football Rivals

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 15.—One of Penn State's oldest football rivals, Lehigh University, will be the Lion's third opponent of the season next Saturday. The Nittany eleven will play in Bethlehem for the first time since 1920 when the two teams were deadlocked, 7-to-7.

Penn State and Lehigh first met on the gridiron in 1888, which was the second season of organized football for the Lions. The Engineers won by a 30 to 0 score. This week's game will be the fifteenth between the two colleges. State has won eight of the previous games. Lehigh five, and one has resulted in a tie.

WANT GAMES
Fardale Stars would like to schedule grid games with all fast midwest teams in the city or country. For games get in touch with John Sabin, James Zinsore or Charles Tusciano. So far Fardale has won six out of seven contests.

Nebraska A Surprise
Nebraska thought to be easy this year took the Iowa team over 14-13. The one big surprise of the day was Illinois defeat of Ohio State 14-13. Ohio State looked good against Indiana a week ago, but apparently Illinois has a team resembling something of what Grant and Britten used to show at Urbana.

Washington State was looking out the window against Gonzaga and lost 13-6 which seems to have dropped the Washington lads from the possibilities of the Pacific Coast championship. And by the way the winner of the Rose Bowl honor on the Pacific Coast this year isn't going to be any of the usual "hot teams." Stanford defeated Northwestern 20-0 which wasn't unexpected.

The sectional winners this year seem to be shaping up early. Princeton.

Silver Program To Be Carried Out

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—China and the rest of the world today had notice that President Roosevelt intends to carry out the program to increase the price of silver.

China's efforts to induce this government to call a halt in that program met with a polite but nevertheless definite rebuff from Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

The only re-assuring word given China was notice of the willingness of this government to "explore" the possibility of exchanging American gold for Chinese silver when the United States is contemplating the purchase of white metal in the world market. The exchange idea was one of the suggestions put forward by China.

In reply to the Chinese note complaining that the American silver price-raising program was threatening China with "a potentially serious monetary situation," Secretary Hull noted the program was mandatory by act of congress.

"The ways and means to be used for carrying out this objective are left within the discretion of the executive but the course must be consistent with the achievement of that objective," Hull said.

The Chinese communication, dated Oct. 2, stated American cooperation to prevent a further rise in silver prices and to maintain stability was "particularly vital to China."

It explained the rise in silver "discourages" the export of commodities and thereby impairs China's purchasing power for imports.

Jumping at conclusions brought the police to the emergency relief headquarters about 11:30 today on a call that was unnecessary. Some person, seeing the crowd, imagined there was trouble and a call for police was sent in. There was no difficulty at any time.

Dr. Coleman Speaks At Rotary Luncheon

Tells Clubmen What Average Man Expects Out Of Country's Situation

Three prime things, security, personal independence and a share of the good things of life, are what the average man expects to get of the present situation in our national life, Dr. John Coleman, professor of political science of Geneva college at Beaver Falls, told the Rotary club at its luncheon in The Castle today. "What the Average Man Expects to Get Out of Today's Situation," was Dr. Coleman's subject.

He told the club that no "one formula" or "pseudo change" act will bring these things to men and said that each issue in our life must be determined strictly on its own merits.

Present with the Rotarians today was Howard B. Richards, now of Birmingham, Ala., former club member here. He is here for the wedding of his son, Frank.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

MEMORY LANE How long can you remember the football stars who reached the headlines in other days? Most of you will very likely over-estimate your ability so we shall only go back to the year 1929 in this little quiz.

Here are 20 football players who, between 1929 and 1933, inclusive, have been mentioned on all-American teams. See if you can recall the year, position and university of these stars who received all-American honors.

- 1—Dalrymple.
- 2—Gracey.
- 3—Nagurski.
- 4—Feathers.
- 5—Koch.
- 6—Crawford.
- 7—Orsi.
- 8—Cannon.
- 9—Tappan.
- 10—Wood.
- 11—Summerfelt.
- 12—Hitchcock.
- 13—Geisler.
- 14—Sington.
- 15—Glasgow.
- 16—Metzger.
- 17—Slight.
- 18—Price.
- 19—Macaluso.
- 20—Schwegler.

They very probably look easy, at least most of them do, but don't get hasty. If you get half of them wholly right you deserve promotion and if you get three-fourths of them correct you will be graduated.

- THE ANSWERS
- 1—Dalrymple, end, Tulane in 1931.
  - 2—Gracey, center, Vanderbilt in 1932.
  - 3—Although Nagurski played in the backfield at Minnesota he was placed at tackle on the all-American selections in 1933.
  - 4—Feathers, halfback, Tennessee in 1933.
  - 5—Koch, guard, Baylor in 1930.
  - 6—Crawford, tackle, Duke in 1933.
  - 7—Orsi, end, Colgate in 1931.
  - 8—Cannon, tackle, Notre Dame in 1929.
  - 9—Tappan, end, Southern California in 1929.
  - 10—Wood, quarterback, Harvard in 1931.
  - 11—Summerfelt, guard, Army in 1932.
  - 12—Hitchcock, halfback, Auburn in 1932.
  - 13—Geisler, end, Centenary in 1933.
  - 14—Sington, tackle, Alabama in 1930.
  - 15—Glasgow, halfback, Iowa in 1929.
  - 16—Metzger, guard, Notre Dame in 1930.
  - 17—Slight, tackle, Purdue in 1929.
  - 18—Price, tackle, Army in 1930.
  - 19—Macaluso, fullback, Colgate in 1930.
  - 20—Schwegler, tackle, Washington U. in 1931.

Coast Football Supremacy Ends

Pitt's Brilliant Victory Puts Crimp In Southern California Football Hopes

SOUTH, MIDWEST HAVE GREAT TEAMS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Having absorbed all of the glory evidence while Pitt was running up a 20 to 6 score on Southern California in Saturday, most of our fearless critics were inclined today to halt this as conclusive testimony that the dynasty of coast football was at an end. They marshalled quite an array of evidence, too, including Columbia's Rose Bowl victory over Stanford; the defeat of St. Mary's on Friday by Nevada; California's 7 to 6 victory over college of the Pacific and the fall before Gonzaga by Washington State, recent winner over U. S. C.

The boys, as usual, are a little impulsive. Perhaps for the moment coast football is a trifle on the wane, although U. C. L. A. is still winning. Stanford did everything expected of it with a 20 to 9 decision over northwestern and Washington was impressive with its 16 to 6 victory over Oregon.

Supremacy Ends However, it may be that the West Coast, at this time, will have to yield to the Middle West, with its Michigan State, Minnesota and Illinois; or the South with its Duke, its Louisiana State, Tennessee and Alabama; or even the Southwest, which sent two teams, Texas and Rice, up here a week ago to beat Notre Dame and Purdue respectively. As for the East, it has quite a few contenders who may go through undefeated, namely: Princeton, Holy Cross, Dartmouth and Columbia, because their schedules are hardly exciting, and Pittsburgh, because it is pretty good.

But, contrary to the expressed opinion this morning of some critics, coast football is not a delusion. Neither is it definitely headed for semi or complete oblivion. It grows its football players too big and too rapidly out there ever to let behind the pace for long and its concentrated coaching is a factor that will see that even an implied slump is temporary.

Poor Coaching Just what kind of coaching Howard Jones gave U. S. C. for Saturday's meeting with Pitt is something I'd like to answer but can't. It has been said that the material was poor. But isn't it anything was poor, it was the team's preparation. I know that Jones doesn't feature deception but I didn't know that he had any objections to fundamentals. The team was inherently good and actually bad and against an outfit that blocked and fought as Pitt did, there wasn't any choice.

Dean Brothers Given $5,000 For Exhibition Game

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Jerome may be Dizzy and Paul may be Daffy, but they're doing all right for Dean & Dean, pitchers.

Mrs. Jerome Dean, treasurer of the firm, noted $5,000 more on the black side of the ledger today, the boys' fee for having a few innings for the semi-pro Mills against the Kansas City Monarchs here yesterday.

Paul and Jerome each pitched two innings, each yielded three hits. They obviously were refraining from bearing down, saving their arms for the remainder of the barnstorming trip that has already netted them $14,000.

Horton Smith Is Tourney Winner

(International News Service) LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 15.—Steady uphill fighting abetted by two spectacular sub-par rounds had clinched for Horton Smith today the championship of the first Louisville open golf tournament.

The 26-year-old ex-caddy who pros at Oak Park, Ill., captured the meet yesterday with a 72-hole total of 286.

This was 3 under the card of Craig Wood, who had 289 for second place. Tommy Armour finished third with 290.

ELLWOOD-BRADDOCK PLAY 6-6 DEADLOCK

Tabers In Third Straight Tie Contest Here On Saturday Afternoon

Locals Again Show Lack Of Scoring Punch As They Outplay Opponents

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—Considerably outplaying their opponents, Ellwood City High had to content itself with a 6-6 tie against Braddock high at Lincoln Field on Saturday afternoon, as they once again showed the lack of a scoring punch.

Three times the Ellwood forward wall in the shadow of its goal posts repulsed Braddock, when they had recovered Robucks mishandled punt. The commendable thing of the Blue and White was its stellar defense. The line covered itself with glory as it held Braddock's running attack to a standstill. They were only able to gain 67 yards through scrimmage to Ellwood's 119. The Benedictmen led six downs to their opponent's three. Braddock did not have a single first down at the end of the first half.

Passes Score Both teams scored their touchdowns on forward passes and each failed to make a placement kick count. Ellwood got theirs early in the second quarter. Smithkins had got off a bad punt which Ellwood took on Braddock's 35 yard line. Bognosky picked up a yard through left tackle. With the next play on a cutback Bill Young made 10 yards and a first down. One the next play Mazzano, who had gone in for Scopellite fumbled and Robuck recovered for a gain of seven yards. Young passed to Mazzano for three yards and another fumble from Robuck. Jeannette was incomplete. Then Young made a beautiful 15 yard heave to Bognosky for a touchdown.

Braddock's score came late in the third period when Kolonoski was downed with Bognosky's punt on Braddock's 45 yard line. In three crashes through center, Riser had made a first down. On the next play Braddock was penalized five yards. Another line buck by Riser failed to gain. Then W. Strohm threw a 30 yard pass to Riser who ran the remaining 20 yards for a touchdown. This was the most spectacular play of the day. There was no other serious threat by either team in the last half.

In the first quarter the locals advanced the ball to Braddock's 18 yard line on a series of plays, where they finally surrendered it on downs.

Visitors On Defensive The visitors were on defense most of the time. Ellwood carried off passed the ball 40 times to Braddock's 22. There were no passes intercepted during the game. Coach Ham Hudson's proteges put up a noteworthy battle. Polonski, Otule and Dominick played a fine game in the line while Riser and Strohm held the limelight in the backfield. Steckman, Kaufman, and Kravak were brilliant in the Ellwood forward wall, while Young and Bognosky were outstanding in the line.

Ellwood has had to keep on its toes since the second game of the season at New Castle and from indications will have one of its hardest games of the schedule when they invade Sharsville next Saturday. Coach Benedict is planning a careful program to be carried out before tackling Sharsville's high scoring machine. Last year they won a 6-0 verdict over the Tubers and view of their showing to date, are highly respected here.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAKER, JR.

MEMORY LANE
How long can you remember the football stars who reached the headlines in other days? Most of you will likely over-estimate your ability so we shall only go back to the year 1929 in this little quiz.

Here are 20 football players who, between 1929 and 1933, inclusive, have been mentioned on all-American teams. See if you can recall the year, position and university of these stars who received all-American honors.

1—Dalrymple.
2—Gracey.
3—Nagurski.
4—Feathers.
5—Koch.
6—Crawford.
7—Orsi.
8—Cannon.
9—Tappan.
10—Wood.
11—Summerfelt.
12—Hitchcock.
13—Gelsler.
14—Sington.
15—Glasgow.
16—Metzger.
17—Slight.
18—Price.
19—Macaluso.
20—Schwegler.

They very probably look easy, at least most of them do not get hasty. If you get half of them wholly right you deserve promotion and if you get three-fourths of them correct you will be graduated.

THE ANSWERS
1—Dalrymple, end, Tulane in 1931.
2—Gracey, center, Vanderbilt in 1932.
3—Although Nagurski played in the backfield at Minnesota he was placed at tackle on the all-American selections in 1929.

4—Feathers, halfback, Tennessee in 1933.
5—Koch, guard, Baylor in 1930.
6—Crawford, tackle, Duke in 1933.
7—Orsi, end, Colgate in 1931.
8—Cannon, tackle, Notre Dame in 1929.

9—Tappan, end, Southern California in 1929.
10—Wood, quarterback, Harvard in 1931.
11—Summerfelt, guard, Army in 1932.
12—Hitchcock, halfback, Auburn in 1932.
13—Gelsler, end, Centenary in 1933.
14—Sington, tackle, Alabama in 1930.

15—Glasgow, halfback, Iowa in 1929.
16—Metzger, guard, Notre Dame in 1930.
17—Slight, tackle, Purdue in 1929.
18—Price, tackle, Army in 1930.
19—Macaluso, fullback, Colgate in 1930.

20—Schwegler, tackle, Washington U. in 1931.

Horton Smith Is Tournery Winner

(International News Service) LOUISVILLE, Ky. Oct. 15.—Steady uphill fighting abetted by two spectacular sub-par rounds had clinched for Horton Smith today the championship of the first Louisville open golf tournament.

The 26-year-old ex-caddy who pros at Oak Park, Ill., captured the meet yesterday with a 72-hole total of 286.

This was 3 under the card of Craig Wood, who had 289 for second place. Tommy Armour finished third with 290.

Hamas-Lasky Refuse Offer

PRIMO CARNERA IS LOGICAL OPPONENT

By HYPE IGEE
International News Service Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Max Schmeling's offer to meet either Steve Hamas or Al Lasky to determine which of the three is the better heavyweight challenger for Max Baer's title, is fair, up to a certain point.

Hamas has whipped the German. Steve could well say that there is no further reputation to be gained in doing the job at home.

Lasky is not willing to meet Schmeling. In fact he refuses the match and that is fair enough too. What Schmeling should do, in down-right fairness, is to challenge Primo Carnera. I can't see how they can sidetrack the big Italian. He fought a game fight against Baer when he lost his title and his broken ankle is a pretty good alibi, from his point of view, as to why he didn't make a successful job of it.

Should Meet Carnera
I think Schmeling ought to fight Carnera first of all. Primo might steal the thunder right out of his hands by taking on Hamas and Lasky. Lasky is itching to fight and for that you've got to admire him. He'll take on any man alive if only to convince the public that he is not a false alarm.

Any man who whips Lasky will know that he has met condition, stamina, courage and ambitious youth!

Schmeling should meet Carnera. He would clean up the situation a lot if he did. All this eliminating might bring about a second meeting between Carnera and Baer. I still think that Baer can knock out Primo every night in the week but he has to be in condition to do it.

Coast Football Supremacy Ends

Pitt's Brilliant Victory Puts Crimp In Southern California Football Hopes

SOUTH, MIDWEST HAVE GREAT TEAMS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Having absorbed all of the gory evidence while Pitt was running up a 20 to 6 score on Southern California on Saturday, most of our fearless critics were inclined today to hail this as conclusive testimony that the dynasty of coast football was at an end. They marshalled quite an array of evidence, too, including Columbia's Rose Bowl victory over Stanford; the defeat of St. Mary's on Friday by Nevada; California's 7 to 6 victory over college of the Pacific and the fall before Gonzaga by Washington State, recent winner over U. S. C.

The boys, as usual, are a little impulsive. Perhaps for the moment coast football is a trifle on the meagre side, although U. C. L. A. is still winning. Stanford did everything expected of it with a 20 to 9 decision over northwestern and Washington was impressive with its 16 to 6 victory over Oregon.

Supremacy Ends
However, it may be that the West Coast, at this time, will have to yield to the Middle West, with its Michigan State, Minnesota and Illinois; or the South with its Duke, its Louisiana State, Tennessee and Alabama; or even the Southwest, which sent two teams, Texas and Rice, up here a week ago to beat Notre Dame and Purdue respectively. As for the East, it has quite a few contenders who may go through undefeated, namely: Princeton, Holy Cross, Dartmouth and Columbia, because their schedules are hardly exacting, and Pittsburgh, because it is pretty good.

But, contrary to the expressed opinion this morning of some critics, coast football is not a delusion. Neither is it definitely headed for semi or complete oblivion. It grows its football players too big and too rapidly out there ever to fall behind the pace for long and its concentrated coaching is a factor that will see that even an implied slump is temporary.

Poor Coaching
Just what kind of coaching Howard Jones gave U. S. C. for Saturday's meeting with Pitt is somewhat of a mystery. But it can't be. It has been said that the material was poor. But is it? If anything was poor, it was the team's preparation. I know that Jones doesn't feature deception but I didn't know that he had any objections to fundamentals. The team was inherently good and actually bad and against an outfit that blocked and fought as Pitt did. There wasn't any choice.

Dean Brothers
Given $5,000 For Exhibition Game

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Jerome may be Dizzy and Paul may be Daffy, but they're doing all right for Dean & Dea, pitchers.
Mrs. Jerome Dean, treasurer of the firm, noted $5,000 more on the black side of the ledger today, the Dean boys' fee for hurling a few innings for the semi-pro Mills against the Kansas City Monarchs here yesterday.

Paul and Jerome each pitched two innings, each yielded three hits. They obviously were refraining from bearing down, saving their arms for the remainder of the barnstorming trip that has already netted them $14,000.

ELLWOOD-BRADDOCK PLAY 6-6 DEADLOCK

Tubers In Third Straight Tie Contest Here On Saturday Afternoon

Locals Again Show Lack Of Scoring Punch As They Outplay Opponents

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—Considerably outplaying their opponents, Ellwood City High had to content itself with a 6-6 tie against Braddock high at Lincoln Field on Saturday afternoon, as they once again showed the lack of a scoring punch.

Three times the Ellwood forward wall in the shadow of its goal posts repulsed Braddock, when they had recovered Rockwell's hand. The Blue White was its stellar defense. The line covered itself with glory as it held Braddock's running attack to a standstill. They were only able to gain 67 yards through scrimmage to Ellwood's 119. The Benediktmen had six downs to their opponent's three. Braddock did not have a single first down at the end of the first half.

Passes Score
Both teams scored their touchdowns on forward passes and each failed to make a placement kick. Ellwood got theirs early in the second quarter. Smithkins had got off a bad punt which Ellwood took on Braddock's 35 yard line. Bognosky picked up a yard through left tackle. With the next play on a cutback Bill Young made 10 yards and a first down. One the next play Mazzano, who had come in for Scopelitte fumbled and Robuck recovered for a gain of seven yards. Young passed to Mazzano for three yards and another fumble from Robuck to Jeannette was incomplete. Then Young made a beautiful 15 yard heave to Bognosky for a touchdown.

Braddock's score came late in the third period when Kolonovski in the line while Riser and Strohm downed with Bognosky's punt on Braddock's 45 yard line. In three carries through center Riser had made a first down. On the next play Braddock was penalized five yards. Another line buck by Riser failed to gain. Then W. Strohm threw a 30 yard pass to Riser who ran the remaining 20 yards for a touchdown. This was the most spectacular play of the day. There was no other scoring threat by either team in the last half.

In the first quarter the locals advanced the ball to Braddock's 18 yard line on a series of plays, where they finally surrendered it on downs.

Visitors On Defensive
The visitors were on defense most of the time. Ellwood carried off the ball 40 times to Braddock's 22. There were no passes intercepted during the game. Coach Ham Hudson's proteges put up a noteworthy battle. Polonski, Gule and Dominski played a fine game in the line while Riser and Strohm held the line in the backfield. Steckman, Kaufman, and Kraynak were brilliant in the Ellwood forward wall, while Young and Bognosky were outstanding in the line.

Ellwood had had to keep on its toes since the second game of the season at New Castle and from all indications will have one of its hardest games of the schedule when they invade Sharpsville next Saturday. Coach Benedict is planning a careful program to be carried out before tackling Sharpsville's high scoring machine. Last year they won a 6-0 verdict over the Tubers and view of their showing to date, are highly respected here.

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—William Leech of this city escaped injury on the New Castle highway Saturday evening when the front tire of his car blew out and the car careened to the side of the road and overturned.

The accident occurred between Haig and Pershing streets in Ewing Park. The car was considerably damaged.

Frances Kowalchuk In Hospital With Broken Left Leg As Result Of Accident

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—Miss Frances Kowalchuk, of the New Castle road, is in the Ellwood City hospital with a broken left leg as result of being struck by a machine driven by Alex Orlando, of New Castle R. D. 1, on Saturday afternoon.

According to a report made to local police, Orlando was traveling in the direction of New Castle near the Wilson home along the highway. He had noticed a car parked along the side of the road with the driver apparently fixing a flat tire. A girl suddenly appeared on the highway and attempted to walk across the road. She saw a car approaching from the direction of New Castle and started to go back and came directly into the path of Orlando's car. The action was so sudden that he was unable to stop or swerve his car. She was knocked down to the pavement by the impact, and suffered a broken leg. She was taken to the local hospital by L. W. Bolinger.

Two Are Injured In Collision Here

Cars Badly Damaged In Head On Crash On Fifth Street Bridge Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—Two men were slightly injured when their cars were considerably wrecked in a head on collision on the Fifth street bridge Saturday afternoon.

Sam Balmini, of Lawrence avenue, was taken to the Ellwood City Hospital, from where he was discharged later in the day. He suffered a deep laceration of the head and knee. Edward Rutter, driver of the other car, had minor injuries treated at the office of a near-by physician.

According to an investigation made by local police Balmini was traveling north on the bridge and Rutter in the opposite direction. Their cars collided in the center of the bridge. Rabbit Rutter and Herb Rodgers were passengers in the Rutter car. They were uninjured. Since half of the width of the bridge is closed because of repairs, five state highway patrolmen and local police had a time of it straightening things out and opening the way for traffic again.

NEW CASTLE HIGH DEFEATS WASHINGTON HIGH 9 TO 6

Fleming Tallies On Line Plunge, Score On Safety

Giles Scores For Washington On Pass Of 50 Yards Late In Fourth Period

New Castle high school football team drove another spike in the 1934 class AA Conference championship Saturday afternoon at Washington, Pa., by defeating Washington high, 9 to 6, in a tough engagement. Fleming scored the New Castle touchdown. New Castle also tallied two points on a safety. Washington got their touchdown late in the fourth period on a 50-yard forward pass. It was the second major victory of the year for the "Red Hurricane" grid machine.

Close Battle First Half
For the first two periods of the game neither team could get near the goal lines. It was just a punting exhibition. Ostrosky and Mumford doing the punting for New Castle and Campbell kicking for the "Little Presidents," and honors were about even. Neither team could gain much through the line. It looked for all the world like a scoreless battle. Both teams were on edge for the important tussle.

Hope For Breaks
Campbell kicked to New Castle on the New Castle 10-yard line as the first period ended. The end of the first half found New Castle in possession of the ball on the Washington 40-yard line after a poor kick by Campbell. The most of the playing in the entire first half was done in mid-field, with first one team or the other backed up against their goal line by dazzling punts.

New Castle Opens Up
After the intermission for the first half the New Castle team came back to the field with the greatest drive seen this year. Something seemed to have happened. Washington found a gentle "Red Hurricane" in the first half, one that would hardly be enough to knock your hat off, but the New Castle eleven that returned to the field of battle for the second half was altogether different.

Giles kicked off to DeCaprio and the New Castle boys rebuffed the kick 15 yards before being downed. Five first downs were clicked off in succession, faster than a New York taxi meter climbs. It was not long until New Castle had the ball deep into the Washington territory. New Castle advanced the ball to the Washington 30-yard line, and at this point in the game Joe Seibert, the Washington right end, took it upon himself to stop the New Castle attack single-handed and he used his fists to accomplish this purpose, but it was not long until Referee Leo Mackey instructed Seibert to leave the game and New Castle had the ball on the Washington 12-yard line. Goodrich replaced Seibert at end for Washington.

Fleming Scores
Fleming ran the ball for two plays and picked up seven yards. Fleming ran the ball again for a first down on the 1-yard line. It looked as if the red-haired boy had carried it over but Mr. Mackey said, "not yet." On the next play Mumford lost four yards at right tackle and Fleming regained the four that were lost. On the next play Fleming was over the goal line for the only touchdown that New Castle was permitted in the game. Alex Shelloge, who had replaced Palkovitch at left tackle, kicked the extra point.

The remainder of the third period

found New Castle and Washington exchanging punts and doing a lot of forward passing. In fact the Washington team, one touchdown behind, had the air filled with passes in the last two minutes of the third session, but none of them were for more than seven yards.

New Castle Scores Safety
Washington had the ball on the New Castle 40-yard line and lost it by inches as the fourth and final period got under way. Fleming ran the ball for a first down in midfield.

Salient Figures On Grid Battle

Score: New Castle 9; Washington 6.
First downs: New Castle 7; Washington 5.
Forward passes: New Castle 0 out of 5; Washington 4 out of 9.
Penalties: New Castle 10 yards; Washington 15 yards.
Punts: New Castle 11; Washington 11.
Total yardage: New Castle punts 410 yards; average 37 yards per kick.
Total yardage Washington 319 yards; average 29 yards per kick.

Mumford kicked and the ball rolled over the goal line, passed the safety man, Wilson, who ran over and attempted to run with the ball but was tackled by Fred Shelloge back of the goal line, for a safety. Two more points were chalked up for New Castle.

The ball was exchanged on punts after the kickoff following the making of the safety. The time for the period was drawing to a close. Washington high became desperate for a score. The air was filled with passes.

Washington Scores
Out of this maze of aerial thrusts Campbell drifted back to the Washington 40-yard line and heaved a mighty pass that was taken by Giles on the New Castle 20-yard line and he raced over for the lone Washington touchdown.

The Washington pass for touchdown was one of the highlights of the game. Campbell's throw carried about 50 yards and was easily taken by Giles. The try for extra point was blocked by New Castle.

There was only time for another kickoff and a few plays by New Castle and the game was over.

Charlton and Washington are in the victory column for New Castle, which leaves Clairton, Turtle Creek and New Kensington high in the Class AA competition remaining on the schedule.

The New Castle line performed brilliantly against Washington. Fleming and Cox did some nice ground gaining for the locals in the backfield. Giles, Campbell, Zadow, Ruffa and Hanom were the best bets in the Washington lineup.

No serious injuries were incurred in the Washington high game, and New Castle will be at full strength for the Clairton battle.

New Brighton Tops Bessemer

First Defeat Of Year To Bessemer High, 19 To 0, Saturday

Bessemer high school football team's winning streak for 1934 was halted at the New Brighton high field Saturday afternoon, 19 to 0, with a strong New Brighton high team taking the honors. Bessemer had won four straight games prior to clashing with the valley eleven.

New Brighton high tallied two touchdowns in the first period with Hornick plunging the ball over the goal line after brilliant work of carrying the ball had been done by Mujwit and Leposky in making three first downs in a row. New Brighton received the kickoff at the start of the game and had a touchdown before two minutes had transpired.

Hornick Tallies.
The New Brighton team tallied again in the first period with Leposky making a first down on the Bessemer 25-yard line after taking a punt from Shoup. Mujwit ran the ball for a first down to the 13-yard line and Hornick carried it to the 2-yard line and on the next play Hornick again tallied on a line buck. Hornick also kicked the extra point.

Bessemer's defense stiffened in the second and third periods and the battle was fairly even, with Bessemer unable to get the ball down near the goal line, but on the other hand New Brighton did not get in scoring position either. The play was in the middle of the field for the greater part of the two periods.

A Leposky Scores.
Midway of the fourth and final period, New Brighton recovered a fumble on the Bessemer 23-yard line and started another march to the goal line. A Leposky, a sub halfback, carried the ball over from the 5-yard line. The extra point failed. Bessemer opened up with a rally late in the game with Navarra making two first downs on sweeping end plays, and carried the ball to the New Brighton 25-yard line. The Bessemer team fought hard, but was simply outclassed by the New Brighton team.

INTRODUCING THOMAS HAMILTON

By JACK SORDS

LIEUT. THOMAS J. HAMILTON, starting his first season as head coach and assistant director of football at the United States Naval Academy, became a member of the staff of the athletic department on March 1, 1934.
Lieutenant Hamilton had been graduated from the Naval Academy in June, 1927, so, in seven short years, this midday returned. While a midshipman, Hamilton was president of his class, and received letters in three sports. He was a tower of strength in the backfield of the football team and was a member of the 1928 championship team. He also played baseball and basketball. He was captain of the basketball team in his first class year.
Lieutenant Hamilton assisted Bill Ingram in coaching the Naval Academy teams in 1927, 1928 and 1930, in the capacity of backfield coach. He achieved his greatest prominence and success as a football coach with teams composed of officers and enlisted men from ships of the United States navy on the west coast. These teams met outstanding college and club teams on the west coast and clinched their seasons, usually, with wins over an army team composed of officers and men stationed in that area.

New Castle Sends Crowd To Game

About 400 Rooters At Washington For Battle On Saturday

Up hilly South Main street that leads from the football field to the center of Washington, Pa., New Castle fans trudged Saturday afternoon with the red coated high school band blaring a paean of victory. Once again New Castle defeated the Washington high school team, always a surprise team, and after watching the red and black take the Little Presidents the average fan feels better about the season's chances.

Washington was all steamed up about the game for Washington, always is; for beating New Castle high school rates as a successful season in itself in Western Pennsylvania. The fans were enthusiastic over the chances before the battle over the blue and white of Washington was evident in the down town section.

Big Crowd
New Castle sent a big crowd of rooters over to the game. Not as many perhaps as have gone in other years but there was at least 400 made the trip. The new road into Washington, route 19 by way of Burgettstown is a fast route and many of the fans made the trip in an hour and thirty minutes for the 76 miles.

The band arrived in Washington about one-thirty in two special busses and immediately began a street concert. They were joined a little later by the Washington high band and the two teams led the parade from the George Washington hotel.

Panther Harriers Beat Westminster

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15—The Pitt cross-country team opened its season with a 15-40 victory over Westminster college over four-and-one-half mile Schenley Park course Saturday. The first five Pitt runners finished in a deadlock for first place in 25 minutes, 15 seconds. They were Kirkpatrick, Albright, Musico, Waggoner and Post.
Davis Garsinger, John Garrett and Wallace all of Westminster finished in the order named.

County Teams To Play At Home On Friday Afternoon

Shenango High Will Play At Bessemer, Union High Will Entertain Mars

In contrast to the previous week when all of the Lawrence County Class A high school teams played away from home, this week the schools will be on their home fields.
Coach Ed Raney will take his Shenango High eleven to Bessemer Friday afternoon to do battle with the Fredericks team.
Union High School will dedicate their new athletic field with a game with Mars High School.

Staples Scores Twice And Sweeney Once In Game At Edinboro Saturday

EDINBORO PLAYS DEFENSIVE GAME

(Special to The News)
EDINBORO, Pa., Oct. 15—Westminster college football team came here Saturday afternoon and carried home a 20 to 0 grid victory over the Edinboro State Teachers college eleven. Staples scored twice for the blue and white, and Sweeney tallied one of the touchdowns.

After a scoreless first period the Titans opened up in the second period with an attack that carried the ball to the Edinboro 11-yard line. Staples took the ball over for the first touchdown.

Sweeney, Staples Score
During the third period Westminster unleashed an attack that carried the ball to the Edinboro 11-yard line for several first downs and Sweeney circled right end for the touchdown. Later in the third period Sweeney, Arrowsmith and Staples penetrated the Edinboro line for long gains and carried the ball to the one-foot line, from where Staples plunged the ball over.

Edinboro never got inside the Westminster 35-yard line all afternoon and were on the defense most of the time.

Tony Herrera, the Mexican, will make his fall appearance at Pittsburgh at Duquesne garden, Pittsburgh, tonight. He will meet Eddie Zivie of Pittsburgh. They are scheduled to go 10 rounds. Herrera has cleaned up about $50,000, from matches in Pittsburgh which developed after he made his first appearance here and scored a knockout over Ray Newton in a few rounds. Later he fought a tough battle in Frankie Ferris, a Philadelphia motorcycle policeman.

Relative to the wrestling match at Pittsburgh, Thursday night, one of the grapplers showed his stuff here. He is Mike Romano. It cost Mike almost as much money to get here as he got for wrestling. He wrestled in Boston the preceding night and took a plane on the day of the match. It carried him to Pittsburgh where a taxicab was waiting to hurry him to the railroad station. He arrived here after a time to take under way but was the show for the night on the mat when summoned from a dressing room.

Officials of the Lawrence County Baseball league intend to hold their annual banquet within the next few weeks. They voted a few nights ago to postpone the fête until Spring. The league had its best season, insofar as trouble was concerned. Not one protest was filed with the commission.

Win SANDLOT GAME, 37-18
The West Side All Stars rung up a 37 to 18 victory over the Round Street All Stars when the teams played Saturday. Scoring touchdowns for the teams were: Minter (5) and Jones, for the victors, and Horchler (2) and Cevera for the losers.

Few Surprises In Week's College Games

Nothing cataclysmic can be seen in the football results which occurred on Saturday. The surprises were in the size of the score in most cases, rather than in the ultimate result, with here and there a minor upset. Pitt was the favorite to defeat Southern California and did, 20-6 which ameliorates in part that pair of lickings the Panther took on the Pacific Coast.

Purdue was not favored to win over Notre Dame and the Ramblers came through with an 18-7 victory. This proves nothing much more than that Notre Dame was the better of the two teams. Chicago verified the report of Michigan State that the University of Michigan was in for a bad year when the Windy City lads took Kipke's outfit 27-0. The last time anything like this happened was sometime after the year of the Chicago fire.

Yale Beats Penn
Yale beat Penn 14-6 which proves nothing for a week ago Penn lost to Ursinus and Yale lost to Columbia. Princeton took Williams as was expected, 35-6 the surprise being that Williams scored at all. Army had another setup in Drake, winning 48-0, Amherst won over Union 13-0 and Harvard won over Brown 13-0.

Columbia had a practice game with Virginia Military Institute during 12-0 and Navy had a tough time with Maryland 16-13. Indiana proved a tartar for Pop Warner's Temple team, tying them 6-6. Temple was supposed to be "on" and Indiana was just over a 33-0 licking from Ohio State the week before. But Joe McMillan had enough to tie the Old Maroon.

Syracuse proved something of a surprise in defeating Cornell 20-7, making it two straight losses in two weeks for Gill Dobie. Penn State added another win at the expense of Gettysburg winning 32-6 and Dartmouth beat Maine 27-0.

Nebraska a Surprise
Nebraska thought to be easy this year took the Iowa team over 14-13. The one big surprise of the day was Illinois defeat of Ohio State 14-13. Ohio State looked good against Indiana a week ago, but apparently Illinois has a team resembling some thing of what Grange and Britten used to show at Urbana.

Washington State was looking out the window against Gonzaga and lost 13-6 which seems to have dropped the Washington lads from the possibilities of the Pacific Coast championship. And by the way the winner of the Rose Bowl honor on the Pacific Coast this year isn't going to be any of the usual "hot teams." Stanford defeated Northwestern 20-0 which wasn't unexpected.

The sectional winners this year seem to be shaping up early. Princeton

Crimson Defeats Slippery Rock

Smith Scores Three Touchdowns In First Half Of Game Saturday

ROCKETS PLAY WELL IN LAST TWO PERIODS

(Special To The News) SLIPPERY ROCK, Oct. 15.—Three thousand fans saw Grove City college defeat Slippery Rock Teachers here 18 to 0, Saturday. Smith, fullback for the Teachers, scored all the touchdowns, making two in the first quarter and one in the second. Stonis was a powerful defensive link for the Rockets.

Grove City scored in the first four minutes when Gibson kicked to Walecki on the Slippery Rock 20 yard line. Walecki ran the ball back to the three yard line and Smith plunged over the goal line for the first touchdown. The attempt for point failed.

Slippery Rock kicked off again and Orman fumbled for Slippery Rock. After a number of gains, Smith took the ball over for the second touchdown and the placement kick for the extra point failed.

The second quarter was fought mostly in Slippery Rock territory and substitutes were sent into the game for the Rockets. Nick Uram took Tatalla's place at quarter.

After an exchange of punts Gibson fumbled and Grove City recovered the ball. Smith threw a pass to Tomko which was good for six yards and Smith threw another pass to Solch which put the ball on the one yard line, then Smith went over for the last touchdown of the game.

Slippery Rock braced and from then on but was unable to push over a touchdown.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

MEMORY LANE
How long can you remember the football stars who reached the headlines in other days? Most of you will very likely over-estimate your ability so we shall only go back to the year 1929 in this little quiz.

Here are 20 football players who, between 1929 and 1933, inclusive, have been mentioned in all-American teams. See if you can recall the year, position and university of these stars who received all-American honors.

- 1—Dalrymple.
- 2—Gracey.
- 3—Nagurski.
- 4—Feathers.
- 5—Koch.
- 6—Crawford.
- 7—Orsi.
- 8—Cannon.
- 9—Tappan.
- 10—Wood.
- 11—Summerfelt.
- 12—Hitchcock.
- 13—Geisler.
- 14—Sington.
- 15—Glasgow.
- 16—Metzger.
- 17—Slight.
- 18—Price.
- 19—Macaluso.
- 20—Schwegler.

They very probably look easy, at least most of them do, but don't get hasty. If you get half of them wholly right you deserve promotion. If you get three-fourths of them correct you will be graduated.

THE ANSWERS

- 1—Dalrymple, end, Tulane in 1931.
- 2—Gracey, center, Vanderbilt in 1932.

Although Nagurski played in the backfield at Minnesota he was placed at tackle on the all-American sections in 1929.

- 4—Feathers, halfback, Tennessee in 1933.
- 5—Koch, guard, Baylor in 1930.
- 6—Crawford, tackle, Duke in 1933.
- 7—Orsi, end, Colgate in 1931.
- 8—Cannon, tackle, Notre Dame in 1929.

- 9—Tappan, end, Southern California in 1929.
- 10—Wood, quarterback, Harvard in 1931.
- 11—Summerfelt, guard, Army in 1932.
- 12—Hitchcock, halfback, Auburn in 1932.

- 13—Geisler, end, Centenary in 1933.
- 14—Sington, tackle, Alabama in 1930.
- 15—Glasgow, halfback, Iowa in 1929.
- 16—Metzger, guard, Notre Dame in 1930.

- 17—Slight, tackle, Purdue in 1929.
- 18—Price, tackle, Army in 1930.
- 19—Macaluso, fullback, Colgate in 1930.
- 20—Schwegler, tackle, Washington in 1931.

Experience isn't such a hot teacher. It keeps on failing to teach men that price-fixing won't work.

Hamas-Lasky Refuse Offer
PRIMO CARNERA IS LOGICAL OPPONENT

By HYPE IGEO
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Max Schmeling's offer to meet either Steve Hamas or Al Lasky to determine which of the three is the better heavyweight challenger for Max Baer's title, is fair, up to a certain point.

Hamas has whipped the German. Steve could well say that he is no further reputation to be gained in doing the job all over.

Lasky is not willing to meet Schmeling. In fact he refuses the match and that is a fact. What Schmeling should do, in town-right fairness, is to challenge Primo Carnera. I can't see how they can sidetrack the big Italian. He fought a game fight against Baer when he lost his title and his broken ankle is a pretty good alibi, from his point of view, as to why he didn't make a successful job of it.

Should Meet Carnera
I think Schmeling ought to fight Carnera first of all. Primo might steal the thunder right out of his hands by taking on Hamas and Lasky. Lasky is itching to fight and for that you've got to admire him. He'll take on any man alive if only to convince the public that he is not a false alarm.

Any man who whips Lasky will know that he has met condition, stamina, courage and ambitious youth!

Schmeling should meet Carnera. He would clean up the situation a lot if he did. All this eliminating might bring about a second meeting between Carnera and Baer. I still think that Baer can knock out Primo every night in the week but he has to be in condition to do it.

MERCER STARS WIN
Mercer Stars ran roughshod over Maitland A. C. 20-5 on the B. and O. field Saturday. Rozzi, Zingaro and Tuscano were outstanding for the winners. Isabelle and DeCarbo played the best for the losers.

Coast Football Supremacy Ends

Pitt's Brilliant Victory Puts Crimp In Southern California Football Hopes

SOUTH, MIDWEST HAVE GREAT TEAMS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Having absorbed all of the gory evidence which was running up a 20 to 6 score on Southern California on Saturday, most of our fearless critics were inclined today to hail this as conclusive testimony that the dynasty of coast football was at an end. They marshaled quite an array of evidence, too, including Columbia's Rose Bowl victory over Stanford; the defeat of St. Mary's on Friday by Nevada; California's 7 to 6 victory over college of the Pacific and the fall before Gonzaga by Washington State, recent winner over U. S. C.

The boys, as usual, are a little impulsive. Perhaps for the moment coast football is a little on the meager side, although U. C. L. A. is still winning. Stanford did everything expected of it with a 20 to 9 decision over northwestern and Washington was impressive with its 16 to 6 victory over Oregon.

Supremacy Ends
However, it may be that the West Coast, at this time, will have to yield to the Middle West, with its Michigan State, Minnesota and Illinois; or the South with its Duke, its Louisiana State, Tennessee and Alabama; or even the Southwest, which sent two teams, Texas and Rice, up here a week ago to beat Notre Dame and Purdue respectively. As for the East, it has quite a few contenders who may go through undefeated: Princeton, Holy Cross, Dartmouth and Columbia, because their schedules are hardly exacting, and Pittsburgh, because it is pretty good.

But, contrary to the expressed opinion this morning of some critics, coast football is not a delusion. Neither is it definitely headed for semi or complete oblivion. It grows its football players too big and too rapidly out there ever to fall behind the pace for long and its concentrated coaching is a factor that will see that even an implied slump is temporary.

Poor Coaching
Just what kind of coaching Howard Jones gave U. S. C. for Saturday's meeting with Pitt is something I'd like to answer but can't. It has been said that the material was poor. But is isn't. If anything was poor, it was the team's preparation. I know that Jones doesn't feature deception but I didn't know that he had any objections to fundamentals. The team was inherently good and actually bad and against an outfit that blocked and fought as Pitt did. There wasn't any choice.

ELLWOOD-BRADDOCK PLAY 6-6 DEADLOCK

Tubers In Third Straight Tie Contest Here On Saturday Afternoon

Locals Again Show Lack Of Scoring Punch As They Outplay Opponents

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—Considerably outplaying their opponents, Ellwood City High had to content itself with a 6-6 tie against Bradock high at Lincoln field on Saturday afternoon, as they once again showed the lack of a scoring punch.

Three times the Ellwood forward wall in the shadow of its goal posts repulsed Bradock, when they had recovered Robucks mishandled punt. The commendable thing of the Blue and White was its stellar defense. The line covered itself with glory as it held Bradock's running attack to gain 67 yards through scrimmage to Ellwood's 119. The Benedictmen had six downs to their opponents' three. Bradock did not have a single first down at the end of the first half.

Passes Score
Both teams scored their touchdowns on forward passes and each failed to make a placement kick.

Ellwood got their early in the second quarter. Smithkins had got off a bad punt which Ellwood took on Bradock's 35 yard line. Bognosky picked up a yard through left tackle. With the next play on a cutback Bill Young made 10 yards and a first down. One the next play Mazzano, who had gone in for a punt, was fumbled and Robuck recovered for a gain of seven yards. Young passed to Bognosky for a touchdown and another fumble from Robuck to Jeannette was incomplete. Then Young made a beautiful 15 yard heave to Bognosky for a touchdown.

Bradock's score came late in the third period when Kolonowski was downed with Bognosky's punt on Bradock's 45 yard line. In three crashes through center: Riser had made a first down. On the next play Bradock was penalized five yards. Another line buck by Riser failed to gain. Then W. Strohm threw a 30 yard pass to Riser who ran the remaining 20 yards for a touchdown. This was the most spectacular play of the day. There was no other serious threat by either team in the last half.

In the first quarter the locals advanced the ball to Bradock's 18 yard line on a series of plays, where they finally surrendered it on downs.

Visitors On Defensive
The visitors were on defense most of the time. Ellwood carried the ball 40 times to Bradock's 22. There were no passes intercepted during the game. Coach Ham Hudson's proteges put up a noteworthy battle. Polonski, Ottele and Dominiski played a fine game in the line while Riser and Strohm held the line in the backfield. Steckman, Kaufman, and Kravack were brilliant in the line. Ellwood's forward wall, while Young and Bognosky were outstanding in the line.

Ellwood has had to keep on its toes since the second game of the season at New Castle and from all indications will have one of its hardest games of the schedule when they invade Sharpsville next Saturday.

Coach Benedict is planning a careful program to be carried out before tackling Sharpsville's high scoring machine. Last year they won a 6-0 verdict over the Tubers and view of their showing to date, are highly respected here.

BLUE EAGLE IN FOR LEGAL JOUST

Code Violation Trial Of Battery Manufacturer Scheduled At Scranton

(International News Service)
SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 15.—The legal joust between the blue eagle of the NRA and Frederick Clark Perkins, York battery manufacturer, was scheduled today to get underway next Monday afternoon in federal court.

Originally listed for trial today, the case was rescheduled for next Monday at the request of United States Attorney Frank J. McDonnell, who indicated more time was needed to complete the government's case.

Perkins, accused of failing to pay his employees the minimum wages prescribed in the code for the West Battery industry, declares that to do so would ruin his small industry whose product is sold chiefly to farmers in the York agricultural district.

Although the case was listed for the October term, it was believed possible it might be postponed until the December term of court at Harrisburg.

Perkins, self-styled "rugged individualist," a former Cornell University football star and a descendant of Capt. Miles Standish, the Pilgrim warrior, conducted his business from a cell in the York county jail where he was committed upon failure to provide $5,000 bail last June 27 on a bench warrant issued by Federal Judge Albert L. Watson at Scranton.

He was subsequently released when Mahlon N. Haines, wealthy York shoe manufacturer, supplied bail after Perkins had spent 18 days behind bars.

Perkins, who began his industry in the cellar of his home and then peddled the product in a battered automobile over the York countryside, declares that his employees are satisfied and that to comply with the NRA code would spell ruin for his small factory.
